

CUBANS HAVE WILSON WRONG, AGREED ON POLICY

Plan, It Is Said, Will Remove Any Excuse for Intervention by U. S.

WARNING: BENEFITS ISLAND

Business Interests Are Reassured and Take Steps to Reopen Various Industries

HAVANA, Jan. 18.—The conference of President Gomez's palace adjourned at 1 o'clock this morning. It was announced that all the elements had reached an understanding to unite in a policy that would remove any excuse for intervention by the United States. Details of the agreement have not been divulged.

After the conference, Gen. Euzebio Hernandez said it was realized that the United States had acted in the best interests of Cuba and as the true friend of the republic.

The persons summoned to meet the president were Gen. Emilio Nunez, Manuel F. Alfonso, Col. Manuel Vazquez, and Colonel Galvez, representing the "Veteran" Gen. Euzebio Hernandez, president of the Miguelistas, Governor Asbert of Havana, Alfredo Laya, vice president of the republic, and Enrique Veron, General Freyre and Antonio Gonzalez Lanuza, the conservative leaders Miguel Coyula, Wilfredo Fernandez editor of "El Comercio," Col. Orestes Ferrer, president of the house of representatives, and Dr. Antonio Gonzalez Perez, president of the senate.

Feeling of Relief Prevails.

The feeling of the receipt Tuesday of news of possible intervention by the United States was succeeded by a feeling of relief consequent upon the general impression that the Knox note was intended merely as a caution similar to President Roosevelt's letter to Quezada, and not as a threat to proceed to extremes without further provocation.

This feeling was enhanced by encouragement—utterances of various public men the hopeful patriotic tone of the majority of the newspapers and the general belief that the veteran campaign is practically dead.

Throughout the day there was a remarkable absence of developments growing out of the presentation to President Gomez of Secretary Knox's note intimating intervention in Cuba by the United States. All interest centered in the conference held at the palace tonight.

The impression is general that the action of the Washington administration deals a death blow in the veteran intrigues thereby removing the excuse for intervention and abundantly

Neighbors Allege That California Woman, Under Hypnotic Influence, Thought Visitor Husband's Spirit.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 17.—Mrs. C. C. Willard is awaiting examination by a medical commission here on the accusation of her neighbors that she had induced, through the hypnotic influence of Wilfred Belliveau, who was admitted to the insane asylum today, to believe that he was the spirit of her husband. The husband, who was in Denver, has been summoned and will arrive tomorrow. It is alleged that during Willard's absence Belliveau called on Mrs. Willard, told her that her husband was dead and that he was the spirit of the departed. He induced her to go with him to a cottage in Berkeley where they disturbed the neighborhood with wild dances and ravings. The arrests followed.

Women Jurors Swing Jury Against a Woman

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 17.—Two women jurors swung the men in their today for a verdict by which a man was convicted of assaulting a woman. Mrs. Christina N. Olson, who, October 27, 1911, attacked Superior Judge John F. Main with a horsewhip, was found guilty of assault in the third degree. Judge Main was attacked following his action setting aside a verdict whereby the Olson son in an eviction suit against them. Mrs. Reta Dordridge, one of the jurors, came into prominence last week when she was the only woman on a jury which was locked up for two nights. She slept on a couch behind a screen and learned all about the case, joined today with her companion, Mrs. Ida Kiveman, in winning over the last two men on the jury who were favorable for an acquittal. The men's objections succumbed after two hours' talk. Mrs. Olson was defended by her husband and a painter.

WATERSON INTIMATES

DEMOCRATS UPHOLD HARVEY

Call Action in Dropping Name New Jersey Man Collapse of Boom

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 17.—That he had hoped to find in Woodrow Wilson another Tilden but had found rather a schoolmaster than a statesman, was the declaration of Henry Waterson, the veteran Kentucky editor and southern Democrat, in a statement made here tonight to the Associated Press in connection with the break between Governor Wilson and Col. George Harvey.

"Regretting that I must appear either as a witness or a party to the misunderstanding which has arisen between Col. George Harvey and Gov. Woodrow Wilson," reads the statement. "I shall have to speak with some particularity in order to be just, alike to the public and the principals."

The conference between them in an apartment of the Manhattan club was held to consider certain practical measures relating to Governor Wilson's candidacy. Colonel Harvey stood toward Governor Wilson much as I had stood five and 30 years ago toward Mr. Tilden. Colonel Harvey had brought the governor and myself together in his New Jersey home months ago and as time passed, had interested me in his ambitions.

Rather a Schoolmaster.

"I was hoping I might find in Governor Wilson another Tilden. In point of intellect and availability, I yet think Colonel Harvey made no mistake in his choice of a candidate, but the circumstances leading to the unfortunate parting of the ways between them leads me to doubt whether in character and temperament it may be merely in the habits of a lifetime Governor Wilson is not rather a schoolmaster than a statesman."

"I have from Colonel Harvey and Governor Wilson statements according to memory of each teaching what did actually happen and was spoken on the occasion named. These do not materially differ. They coincide with my own recollection. Nothing of a discourteous kind—even of an unfriendly kind—passed during an interview of more than hour. From the first, however, there was a certain constraint in Governor Wilson's manner—his absence of the cordiality and candor which should mark hearty confidential intercourse intimating the existence of some adverse influence.

"His manner was autocratic, if not tyrannical. I did not take this to myself, but thought it related to Colonel Harvey and when Colonel Harvey, apparently overcome by Governor Wilson's austerity, put the direct question to Governor Wilson whether the support of Harper's Weekly was doing him an injury, and received from Gov-

SEN. CUMMINS MAY BE A CANDIDATE

DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 17.—Sen. Albert B. Cummins will shortly announce himself as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, according to a report which was persistent among his friends here today. The senator is in Washington today.

It was stated that Senator Cummins had definitely made up his mind to enter the Republican contest, after considering all phases of the situation. For several weeks, it is said, Iowa friends had urged the senator to enter the race.

No one could be found here today who could verify the report that the senator would be a candidate.

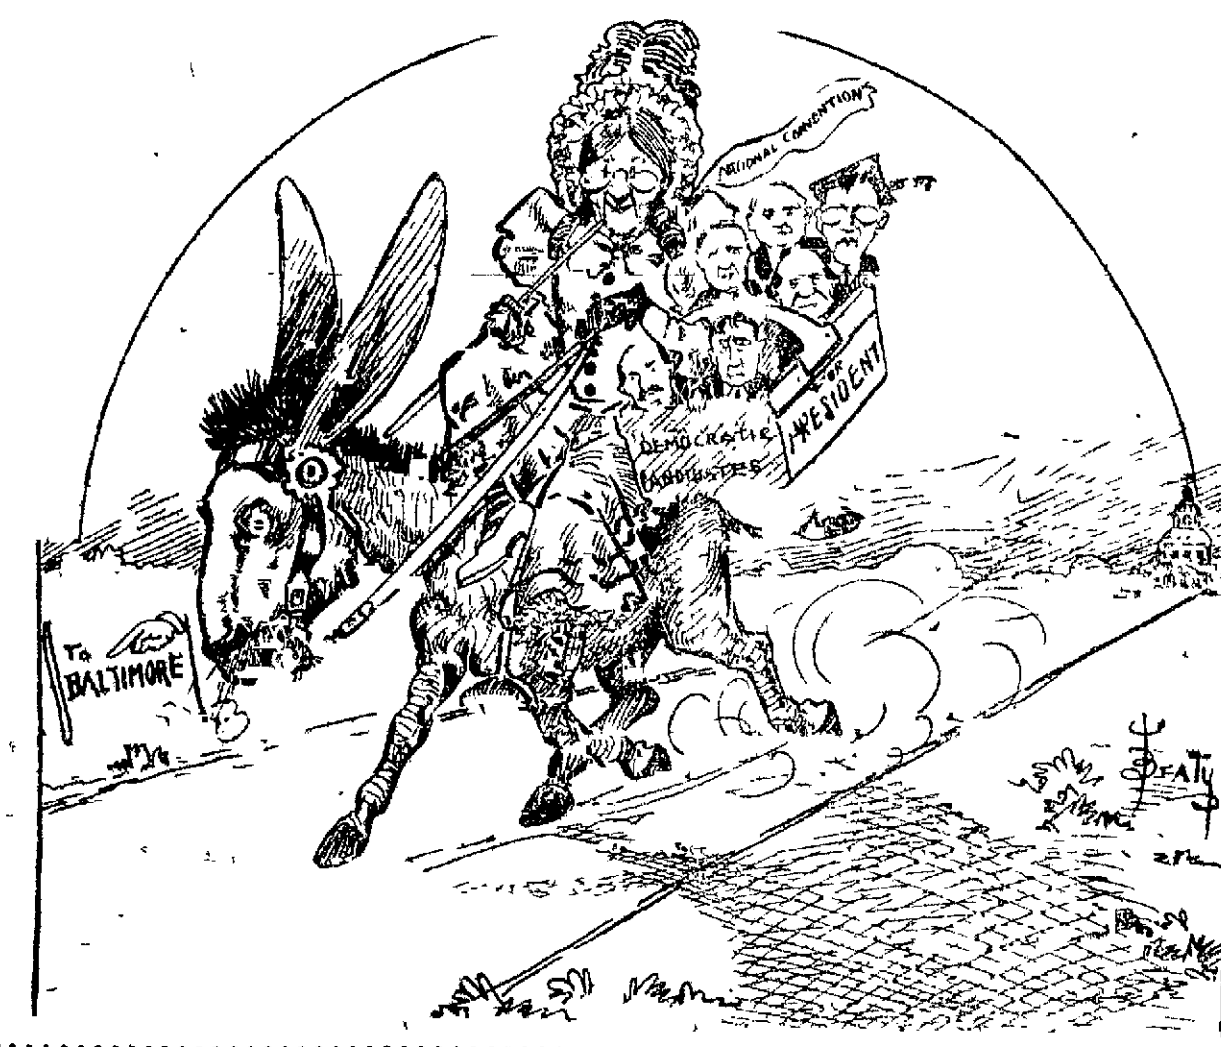

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Whether Sen. Albert B. Cummins of Iowa, will be a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination will be discussed and probably determined at a meeting of the Iowa delegation in congress which will be called upon the return of Senator Kenyon from the west.

Kenyon probably will be in Washington in a few days. Senator Cummins, meantime, refuses to discuss the reports that he would shortly announce his candidacy.

"I am not responsible for these reports," he said, "and I have nothing to say about them."

He had expressed himself to some of those who had urged the matter upon him, as averse to taking any steps that would weaken the cause of Senator La Follette, avowed presidential candidate. While spending the Christmas holidays in Iowa, progressive Republicans there told him Mr. La Follette could not secure a united Iowa delegation to the national convention and that the delegates would be for President Taft. Unless Senator Cummins were a candidate of the 10 Republican members in congress from Iowa, all but two are classed as progressives and strong supporters of Senator Cummins.

GOV. STUBBS ADVOCATES ROCK ROADS IN KANSAS

EMPORIA, Kan., Jan. 17.—The building of a rock road through the eastern portion of Kansas paralleling the Santa Fe railway was advised by Gov. W. R. Stubbs of Kansas before the Good Roads meeting here today, participated in by delegates representing several western states.

Governor Stubbs spoke of the construction of good roads as an economical measure for farmers. He said:

"Our transcontinental railroads have in the last few years spent hundreds of millions of dollars reducing grade lines to haul traffic across the continent at lower cost. A large share of this freight is first hauled to the railroads over wagon roads, generally located on section lines, with very little regard to grades or drainage."

"An assessment of $2 an acre on each section of land lying next to a public road and one dollar on acre on the next adjoining section would build a magnificent, permanent road in the average district. The increased value of this land would be anywhere from $10 to $20 an acre."

FIRE IN INSANE ASYLUM

Infirmary of Institution on Outskirts of Chicago Destroyed—Loss $35,000.

—None of Patients Injured.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Fire today destroyed the infirmary of the Dunning insane asylum at the outskirts of the city and caused attendants considerable trouble in restraining the excited patients, none of whom was hurt. The loss was $35,000.

The burning building housed 300 persons, most of whom had to be aided to other parts of the institution. Lack of water and difficulty in getting fire apparatus to the remote grounds threatened five adjoining buildings, which sheltered nearly 1,000 other patients. All of these were made to don wraps and stand in the open aid under guard until firemen had the flames under control.

EXPLOSION OF GAS WRECKS TENEMENT

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 17.—One person was killed, eleven were injured and one is missing as the result of an explosion of gas that wrecked a three-story brick tenement here tonight. The explosion was caused by the ignition of leaking gas by a lamp which was carried into the cellar by George Hoelt, when he entered to cut some wood. The entire structure, which was built 22 years ago, crumbled like so much paper and went down, burying its occupants beneath an avalanche of bricks and timbers.

The dead.

MISS IDA PERKINS.

The missing person is Mrs. Mary Brock. Fire broke out immediately after the collapse. It was not until two hours afterwards that all of the injured and the body of the dead woman were taken from the debris. Five families totalling in all about 15 persons, lived in the building.

HEIR WANTED IN COURT HEARING STILL MISSING

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Judge Pinckney in the juvenile court today delved into the mystery which surrounds the disappearance of little William Lindsay, heir to a Philadelphia estate, who after being taken from the "Temple of Masdaznan" was lost sight of before the court fairly had started to inquire into the "temple's" nature. Expectation that "Billy" Lindsay and his mother would appear at the hearing today came to naught.

BORAH ATTACKS FOREST SERVICE

Advocates General Remodeling and Liberalizing of Land Laws

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The interior department and the forest service were attacked in general debate in the senate today by Senator Borah, of Idaho, who advocated a general remodeling and liberalizing of the homestead land laws.

Mr. Borah suggested reducing from five to three years the time after entering and before applying for that settlers should be allowed to leave their homesteads to earn a living while complying with the law as to residence.

Mr. Borah urged that title should be given as soon as the applicant made proof. He said that he was free with a delay of from 10 to 12 years in giving title to homesteaders on reclaimed lands. He offered compensating settlers to abandon their land and Borah intended that settlers in the national forest were at the mercy of the forest rangers.

Heyburn for Land Court.

Senator Heyburn of Idaho wanted a land court established. Senators Warren, McCumber, Clark (Wyo.) and Dixon, said the great trouble was with the administration of the law. Mr. Dixon said that 15 months ago 20,000,000 acres in Montana were withdrawn on the supposition that the covered coal but no effort had been made to ascertain the presence of the mineral. Mr. Clark complained of delay in transmitting letters within the interior department. Senator Smith, of Michigan, spoke of the forest regarding

Governor Foss Is Guarded Against Alleged Blackhand

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—An intimation that Governor Foss was to be made the object of a black hand attack, presumably because of his activity in the Lawrence strike situation, caused unusual precautions to be taken to guard the governor tonight. His home in Jamaica Plain was surrounded by guards, while half a dozen Italian plain clothes men scoured the neighborhood for bomb throwers.

No Deal On for Sale of Golden Cycle Holdings

The Golden Cycle Mining company has not sold any of its property to the American Smelting & Refining company, and no negotiations are on with that corporation or any other for the sale of any of the Golden Cycle holdings, according to H. McGarry, general manager of the mining company, who returned yesterday from an extended visit in the east and south.

Persistent rumors have been in circulation that the Golden Cycle mill in Colorado City and perhaps the mine of the same name at Victor, would be sold to John T. Miliken, president and chief stockholder of the Golden Cycle Mining company, lives in St. Louis and Manager McGarry had been out of town for some time so that the latter's denial yesterday is the first official statement regarding the reported sale.

The annual stockholders' meeting of the company will be held at St. Louis January 27. It is a foregone conclusion, according to those in close touch with the company's affairs, that the management will be reelected.

STATE GRADE CONDEMNNS GOOD ROADS MEETING

DENVER, Jan. 17.—Resolutions condemning the steam roller method alleged to have been used in the recent convention of the Colorado Good Roads association at Pueblo were adopted today by the Colorado state senate. The highway commission of the state, headed by John Morris, state engineer, and Charles Johnson, state auditor, and also by Mr. H. B. Bennett, secretary, Mr. S. R. Rhea, chief clerk, and J. P. Girard, assistant secretary, were present. The resolutions were introduced by Mr. R. B. Riddle, Denver, secretary.

WOMAN HELD FOR BIGAMY

Henderson, Colo., Rancher Charges Wife Left Home Once a Year to Visit Her Other Husband

DENVER, Jan. 17.—Mrs. Frances Tudor, aged about 35, was arrested on a charge of bigamy, preferred by the district attorney as a result of affidavits placed in his hands by the woman's husband, N. D. Tudor, who owns a ranch near Henderson, Colo. They were married in Oklahoma four years ago as a result of the woman's answer to a newspaper advertisement. Tudor says that following their marriage, once a year the woman went to a ranch near Montrose on the plea that she was taking up a claim and resided there as necessary there. Tudor's wife this year he became suspicious and went on his wife's trail, finally meeting her on the street in Pueblo last week in company with Gus A. Johnson, a Montrose county ranch owner. Before the chief of police in Pueblo affidavits are alleged to have been made by the woman that she married Johnson on 14 or 15 years ago, and that she knew the bigamous nature of her union with Tudor. Tudor secured copies of the affidavits and placed them before the Denver district attorney today.

Mrs. Tudor is in the county jail, unable to give a $500 bond. She claims she did not know what she was signing the affidavit and that she was never married to Johnson.

WEALTHY CHINAMAN HELD AS HEAD SMUGGLING GANG

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—United States Customs Inspector E. E. Enlow returned to San Francisco from Monterey today with an account of a seizure of opium in that city which will, he declares, connect Mack Tin Toy, one of the wealthiest Chinese in the state, with an opium smuggling conspiracy extending from Canada to Mexico. Mack is now being held at Salinas under $100,000 bonds for alleged complicity in bringing Chinese into the United States.

SAYS REBATES GIVEN BREWERY RAILWAY MAN ATTACKS ANHEUSER BUSCH

Declares L and N. Forced to Give Back $450 for Every Car Received

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 17.—Testimony by an interstate commerce commissioner, Milton Smith, testified at the Louisville & Nashville railway, declared that Anheuser-Busch Brewing company was receiving rebates from the Louisville & Nashville railway, which the brewery intended to use in its common carrier.

Smith also told of Anheuser-Busch's alleged to have been used in the recent convention of the Louisville & Nashville railway, which the brewery intended to use in its common carrier.

General L. Moore, president of the Louisville & Nashville railway, testified that the rebates were not illegal, but that they were a matter of business.

President Busch Replies. Louis Anheuser-Busch, president of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing company, which at his winter home in Pasadena, Cal., tonight gave Associated Press the following statement in reply to the testimony of President Smith of the Louisville & Nashville railway before the interstate commerce commission at St. Louis: "That the company had accepted rebates from the railway and that Mr. Busch had accepted rebates from the railway."

"The Manufacturers railway of St. Louis is a fully equipped railroad doing a regular business, and there is being handled annually between 50,000 and 60,000 carloads of freight to and from all parts of the United States."

"The Manufacturers railway is recognized by the interstate commerce commission. It is now trying to make its connection east and west a large union depot on Broadway and Chouteau avenue, St. Louis."

Mr. Busch was very much astonished to hear of the action of Mr. Smith. "The fact is that the Manufacturers railway, to his knowledge, never applied for any rebate, but they were sent voluntarily by nearly all the railroads of the country and it must be evident that the railroad is recognized as a regular and full railroad, and therefore it exchanged the usual courtesies amongst railroad officials."

The Anheuser-Busch Brewing company has no interest in the Manufacturers railway.

MEMORABLE OVATION TO CARDINAL FARLEY

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Illumination tonight of St. Patrick's cathedral with 50,000 electric lights strung to the very tops of the two great spires, ended a memorable day of ovation for Cardinal John Farley on his return to America as a newly created prince of the church.

It is estimated that 750,000 people saw his eminence, driven from the battery, where he landed, up Broadway and Fifth avenue to the cathedral. So unbounded was the enthusiasm of many who sought to kiss his ring that mounted police were obliged to charge the throngs repeatedly.

Dressed in his scarlet robe, the cardinal rode in an open carriage through a lane of people extending more than four miles.

At the cathedral it was only by force that way was made for him through the crowd. Six thousand children's voices were raised in the "Te Deum" as he entered. In thanks for the welcome his eminence spoke with great feeling and delivered the blessings of Pope Pius X.

"Coming now from his sacred presence," he said, "and after several private audiences in which he opened his fatherly heart as to a loving son, and after hearing that voice which seemed to speak in tones of inspiration to the consistory proclaiming to the world the fearless denunciation of the schemes of the church's enemies, I have returned with a confidence more full than ever before that God has placed in the chair of Peter a man after Christ's own heart, to meet the needs of time."

"Not only is that feeble old man untroubled but it seems his placid insistence is founded on the profound faith of the saints, strong in the belief that God is with him and his church as he has promised he would ever be."

Dual Conscience Result of Keeping Religion Out of Politics and Vice Versa

Age of Social Problem.

This is the age of the social problem, said Bishop Williams, in the beginning. "It strikes at us from the stump, it thunders at us from the congressional halls. It shouts at us from the pulpit. Almost every argument that is started ends in the social problem. Our fathers weren't bothered that way. It seems to be an obsession. Why? Because we have passed through a tremendous transition of thought. We have a new science—sociology. I think it is because society has, using a military term, made a change of base."

Next Bishop Williams took up the reformation in the churches and the new thoughts in politics, and discussed the different phases of society and politics.

"We are beginning to realize," he continued, "that every person comes

SOCIALISTS TRY TO PLEDGE MINE WORKERS OF AMERICA

Stormy Debate Follows Introduction of Resolution Calling It "Political Party of Working Class."

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 17.—After the convention of the United Mine Workers of America had gone on record today as favoring government ownership of industries, the Socialists among the 1300 delegates launched a resolution endorsing their party as the political party of the working class. But it met resistance. Stormy debate occupied the afternoon session, and the question went over until tomorrow.

Action also was deferred on a resolution providing that the United Mine Workers should withdraw from the American Federation of Labor, condemning the National Civic Federation as an agent of capitalists, and sharply criticizing Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and other leaders of the federation of labor for cooperation with the civic federation.

"Regretting that I must appear either as a witness, or a party to the misunderstanding which has arisen between Col. George Harvey and Gov. Woodrow Wilson," reads the statement, "I shall have to speak with some particularity in order to be just, alike to the public and the principals.

"The conference between us in my apartment at the Manhattan club was held to consider certain practical measures relating to Governor Wilson's candidacy. Colonel Harvey stood toward Governor Wilson much as I had stood five and 30 years ago toward Mr. Tilden. Colonel Harvey had brought the governor and myself together in his New Jersey home months ago and as time passed, had interested me in his ambitions.

"I have from Colonel Harvey and Governor Wilson statements according to memory of each touching what did actually happen and was spoken on the occasion named. These do not materially differ. They coincide with my own recollection. Nothing of a discourteous kind—even of an unfriendly kind—passed during an interview of more than hour. From the first, however, there was a certain constraint in Governor Wilson's manner; the absence of the cordiality and candor which should mark hearty confidential intercourse, intimating the existence of some adverse influence."

SEN. CUMMINS MAY BE A CANDIDATE

DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 17.—Sen. Albert B. Cummins will shortly announce himself as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, according to a report which was persistent among his friends here today. The senator is in Washington.

It was stated that Senator Cummins had definitely made up his mind to enter the Republican contest, after considering all phases of the situation. For several weeks, it is said, Iowa friends had urged the senator to enter the race.

No one could be found here today who could verify the report.

and probably determined at a meeting of the Iowa delegation in congress headquarters he called upon the return of Senator Kenyon from the west.

Kenyon probably will be in Washington in a few days. Senator Cummings, meantime, refuses to discuss the reports that he would shortly announce his candidacy.

"I am not responsible for these reports," he said, "and I have nothing to say about them."

He had expressed himself to some of those who had urged the matter upon him, as adverse to taking any steps that might weaken the cause of Senator La Follette, favored presidential candidacy. While spending the winter holidays in Iowa, progressive Republicans there told him Mr. La Follette could not secure a united Iowa delegation to the national convention, and that the delegates would be for President Taft unless Senator Cummings were a candidate. Of the 10 Republican members in congress from Iowa, all but two are classed as progressives and strong supporters of Senator Cummings.

STATE GRANGE CONDEMNS GOOD ROADS MEETING

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The interior department and the forest service were attacked in general debate in the senate today by Senator Borah, of Idaho, who advocated a general homesteading and liberalizing of the homestead land laws.

Mr. Borah suggested reducing from five to three years the time after entering and before proving up that settlers should be allowed to leave their homesteads to earn a living while complying with the laws as to residence.

Mr. Borah urged that title should be given as soon as the applicant made proof. He said there was frequently a delay of from 10 to 12 years in getting title to homesteads on reclamation lands, often compelling settlers

Senator Hayburn of Idaho wanted a land court established. Senators Warren, McCumber, Clark, (Wyo.) and Dixon, said the great trouble was with the administration of the law. Mr. Dixon said that 15 months ago 25,000,000 acres in Montana were withdrawn on the supposition that they covered coal, but no effort had been made to ascertain the presence of the mineral.

Mr. Clark complained of delays in transmitting letters within the interior department. Senator Smith, of Michigan, spoke feelingly regarding

Why a Good Jewelry Store Is the Best Jewelry Store

In nothing as much as jewelry is it so essential for the buyer to seek the best. A good piece of jewelry stands for itself and shows its quality to the most casual observer, and it does not need the attention and repairing that cheaper jewelry needs. And the cost is but a little more. In jewelry the best is always the cheapest.

J. F. Turner Alleges $17,368 Is Due Him as Republican Club Organizer for National League

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—A suit against John Hayes Hammond was filed in the supreme court by James F. Turner today to recover $17,368, which Turner alleges is due him as an organizer of Republican clubs in the various states in connection with the National League of which Hammond is president. Turner alleges he was employed by Hammond on April 7, 1909, at a salary of $1,000 per year and a promise to continue until the close of the first term of President Taft on March 4, 1913, but was dismissed on September 10, 1910, without just cause.

President in Favor Budget Systems of Other Countries as One Means of Reducing Expenses; Says Economy in Expenditures Saves Millions

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—In a special message to congress today, President Taft makes an earnest plea for an appropriation of $200,000 in order that the special commission on efficiency and economy, which is investigating the various departments of the government, may continue its work for the ensuing year. This was one of the commitments that was slated to pass out of existence, as a result of the Democratic program of economy.

To support his plea, the president submits a brief outline of the work that has been accomplished since July, 1910, when the commission began its work, and states that over $2,000,000 per year has already been saved as a result of the investigation, and the foundation laid for the annual saving of many more millions.

While the commission's report will not be completed for some time, the president, in mentioning some of the things accomplished up to date, states that it will recommend the abolishment of the revenue cutter service, which costs the government over $2,500,000 each year. In the opinion of the commission its varied activities can be performed with equal, or greater, advantage by other services. The commission, therefore, recommends that it be abolished. It is estimated that by doing a saving of not less than $1,000,000 a year can be made.

Urges System to Show Details.

In order that the government may be held responsible for the money that it spends, the president urges the adoption of an annual budget similar to that which exists in European countries, which will show in detail whether the money appropriated has been economically spent and whether every division or office has been efficiently run. In this connection, the president takes occasion to state that the United States is the only great nation whose government is operated without a budget.

The extension of civil service so as to include local offices under the departments of the treasury, the interior, the postoffice and commerce and labor, which was recommended by the president in a recent message, is treated at considerable length. According to the president, the removal of these offices from politics would result not only in the saving of a vast amount of money, but also in increased efficiency in every department.

"So long as local officers are within the sphere of political patronage," says the president, "it is difficult to consider the establishment or discontinuance of local offices, apart from the effect upon local political situations. It also necessitates the president and members of congress devoting to matters of patronage time which they should devote to questions of policy and administration." That there are a great many of these positions, for which there is absolutely no need, is the opinion of the president, and he has accordingly ordered the commission to make a list of the local offices to be abolished. This list he will present to congress, with a request for quick action.

Looking Into Employees' Pensions.

The president states that the question of pensioning the superannuated government employees is also being investigated by the commission, and as soon as the work has been completed he will submit a plan to congress for the retirement of those employees.

In asking for the continuance of the commission, the president states that this is the first comprehensive effort that has ever been made to study the administrative mechanism of the government, which today employs more than 400,000 persons and has gross expenditures amounting to nearly $1,000,000,000 annually.

The commission has entered upon the preparation of three series of reports, which when completed will be submitted to congress. The first series deals with the manner in which the services of the government should be grouped in departments; the second with the organization and activities of particular services, and the third, with the form of organization for the performance of particular business operations.

Cites Different Methods.

The president then cites different business methods employed by the various executive departments, investigated by the commission, pointing out the varied filing systems in use for the storing away of documents of all descriptions, and suggests that a universal filing system would be of great benefit and cause a saving of money. The waste in the distribution of public documents also comes under the presidential ban. That it costs the government more than $12,000,000 for traveling expenses for its various employees is one of the things brought to the attention of the president by the commission. In commenting upon this feature, the president suggests that a big saving can be accomplished by putting into force a mileage book system that would save the government several millions every year.

Among other expenditures commented upon are the loose purchasing methods now in vogue, and the annual cost of electric lighting, which is more than $600,000 a year. The president is in favor of installing labor-saving devices and believes this would materially decrease expenditures.

The case of George Jenkins, a Greek, charged with the theft of $140 from two Greeks in a section camp south of this city several months ago, was given to the jury in the district court at noon today. Up to 2:30 o'clock this afternoon a verdict had not been reached.

A LARGE CONTRACT

What The Herley-Arcularius Drug Co. Wants Every Person in Colorado Springs to Do

When the Herley-Arcularius Drug Co., the enterprising druggists, first offered a 50-cent package of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price, and guaranteed to return the money if it did not cure, they thought it probable from their experience with other medicines for these diseases, that they would have a good many packages returned. But although they have sold hundreds of bottles, not one has been brought back.

The Herley-Arcularius Drug Co. wants every person in Colorado Springs who has constipation, dyspepsia, headaches, or trouble to come to their store or send the Herley-Arcularius Drug Co. 25 cents by mail and get 50 doses of the best medicine ever made at half the regular price, with their personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure.

To those suffering with dizziness, headache, poor digestion, constipation and straining, Dr. Howard's specific offers quick relief. It is an invaluable boon to all who feel uncomfortable after eating and is today the popular dinner pill in all the large cities.

Manchu Princes in Favor of Accepting Republican Terms

PEKING, Jan. 17.—At its next gathering, the conference of the princes of the imperial clan and the dowager empress will call into consultation members of the cabinet, the discussion of abdication having been postponed until Friday.

Many of the treasures of the Peking and Mukden palaces, worth millions of dollars, are being offered for sale. A number of American and European agents are here negotiating for their acquisition. The minor palaces and also the Forbidden City are being depleted in a similar way, and art works from their collections are being disposed of.

Mukden was the former Manchu capital, and in the palace there is a museum full of historical and sentimental relics valued at many millions of dollars.

Many arrests were made today of persons suspected of complicity in the attempted assassination of Premier Yuan Shi Kai.

One officer and another soldier have died from the wounds they sustained when the bomb was thrown, and six other soldiers are in a dangerous condition.

Have Document to Sign.

NANKING, Jan. 17.—It is believed the negotiations looking to a peaceful settlement of China's troubles are approaching a conclusion. The formal document has been drawn up for signatures, and Tang Shao has been exchanging telegrams with President Sun Yat Sen. It is expected they finally have agreed concerning guarantees.

Certain Republicans positively decline to accept Yuan Shi Kai as president of the republic in place of Dr. Sun, but the former may hold the premiership in the provisional government and when peace is restored and the constitution drawn up, Yuan may have an opportunity to secure his election. Dr. Sun, however, is persisting in his determination to retire.

Manchus Favor Terms.

SHANGHAI, Jan. 17.—Tang Shao Yi has received a telegram from Peking, saying that as a result of today's discussions, the imperial princes are unanimously in favor of the acceptance of the Republican terms. The Mongolian contingent raised some difficulties which, however, are thought to be surmountable. It is reported that the Republicans hope now to raise a loan in the United States on security of various Wu Chang properties.

Five steamers with troops aboard are lying at Woosung, above Shanghai, under orders to proceed to Chai Fu.

RICE DISMISSES COUNSEL

Man Charged With Using Mails to Defraud Asks to Be Allowed to Defend Himself

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—George Graham Rice, of mining stock fame, in the United States district court today, protested to Judge Ray that he be allowed to defend himself. He had previously informed the court by letter that he had decided to dismiss his counsel.

"I claim the right to defend myself," said the man on trial with B. H. Scheffels and others, charged with using the mails to defraud.

"But," said the court, with emphasis, "under the law you must be represented by counsel. However, I shall allow you to defend yourself as far as is practicable."

The court thereupon appointed one of the lawyers Rice dismissed to act for him, allowing the defendant to dispense with three others with whom he had a misunderstanding. The government concluded its case today with the introduction of more telegrams and letters. One of these was from Rice to a manager of the Chicago office. "Take a sandwich with you tonight," the message read, "and look for a live one. If he won't buy Elly Central, hit him a good one."

NEW WITNESS APPEARS AT TRIAL OF PACKERS

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—New interest was added to the trial of the Chicago packers today when Walter A. Wall, formerly a trusted employee of Morris & Co., arrived here, prepared to take the stand against the defendants as one of the government's witnesses. Wall was formerly branch manager for Morris & Co., and is said to have an intimate knowledge of the details of the packers' business methods. It is expected that he will testify either tomorrow or Friday.

Harry A. Timmins, accountant for Morris & Co., was on the stand all day. Timmins said the prices for hides and oleomargarine fluctuated at times so as to make a difference of 43 cents per 100 pounds in figuring the test cost of beef.

About 50 pounds of fat were obtained from each steer and the weight of hides averaged 68 pounds. Timmins testified.

NEW CANDIDATE FOR FEDERAL JUDGESHIP

ROSWELL, N. M., Jan. 17.—Determined opposition among the political enemies to block the confirmation of William Pope of Roswell as federal judge, was today supplemented by the declaration of the candidacy of T. C. Abbott of Santa Fe for the honor. A lengthy telegram in protest sent to Washington last week was followed today by a second telegram giving events in Pope's record showing alleged prejudice and lack of qualification.

ROOSEVELT ON SKIS

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Jan. 17.—Theodore Roosevelt passed the afternoon skiing down the slopes of Sagamore hill and practicing long jumps. He had as a companion his daughter Ethel. WITHHELD INFORMATION DYNAMITE CONSPIRACY

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 17.—Statements that certain men knew about the dynamite conspiracy as early as October, 1909, but that their information was withheld for purposes of prosecution, came to the attention of the federal grand jury today.

The fact became known through the story told by John Halfman, a saloon keeper. According to Halfman, a room rented at his saloon by strangers was used as a meeting place for the men who blew up a building under construction by Albert Von Spreckelsen, an "open shop" contractor in Indianapolis. One of the visitors at Halfman's place was identified by Mrs. Alta Hawkins as a man who just before the explosion told her, "to look out for a big noise."

Impressed with what he learned, Charles A. Bookwalter, then mayor of Indianapolis, later said he urged the police to question this man as to who was concerned in the dynamiting, but no prosecutions resulted.

TABASCO, MEXICO, RESTS FSS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Tabasco, a state in the southern part of Mexico, is on the verge of revolution because the governor has not inaugurated promised reforms according to state department advice. The movement is said to have no connection with national affairs and apparently there are not enough federal soldiers on the spot to restore order. No Americans have been molested.

CARGO LINER AGROUND

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The Hamburg-American cargo liner Euphonia is aground on the shoals of the lower Chesapeake bay. The revenue cutter Onondaga, which is standing by, has sent a wireless "S. O. S." to the revenue cutter Apache to hasten to the scene.

WORK FOR ITS OWN SAKE

John Ruskin:
A man or woman in public or in private life, who ever works only for the sake of the reward that comes for the work, will in the long run do poor work always. I do not care where the work is, the man or woman who does work worth doing is the man or woman who lives, breathes and sleeps that work; with whom it is ever present in his or her soul; whose ambition is to do it well and feel rewarded by the thought of having done it well. That man, that woman, puts the whole country under an obligation.

CHICAGO PACKING PLANT ON FIRE; LOSS $25,000

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Fire attacked the office building of Schwartzchild and Sulzberger just before the packing plant was closed today and threatened the entire plant. Fear that the fire would reach the company's chemical laboratory and spread ruin broadcast prompted a general alarm. The flames, however, were confined to the upper stories of the office building. The loss was about $25,000.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The dispute in California over the right of Italian consuls to settle the estates of Italians dying in America without wills was submitted today to the federal supreme court for decision. Italy claims the right by virtue of treaty rights conferred upon Argentina. It is claimed that practically every foreign nation with consuls in America could take advantage of the Argentine treaty.

I am not sure that I had not said as much to Colonel Harvey himself, but that Governor Wilson, without the least show of compunction, should express or yield to such an opinion and permit Colonel Harvey to consider himself disengaged from the position of trust and intimacy he had up to this moment held, left little room to doubt that Governor Wilson was not a man who makes common cause with this political assassin, or is deeply sensitive of public obligations because it is true and fair to say that except for Colonel Harvey he would not be in the running at all."

Newspaper Comments Meager.

The comments of the Havana newspapers are meager and are characterized generally by patriotic adjurations to all Cubans regardless of their political affiliations to forget past and present differences and unite loyally in obeying the laws and preserving order without giving the least excuse for foreign intervention as the only way whereby the independence of the republic can be maintained.

Nunez Followers Weaken.

Gen. Emilio Nunez, president of the Veterans association, in an interview today, reaffirmed his opinion that the United States was not justified in threatening intervention, because the Veterans association was a purely patriotic organization, similar to the Grand Army of the Republic. It had broken no laws, nor had it defied the authority of the government. It existed only for the purpose of promoting the welfare of the republic by constitutional means.

To Withdraw Address.

General Nunez had a conference today with the secretary of the interior, Sen. McChesney, when it was decided that the veterans should withdraw their obnoxious address to the president, demanding annulment of the decree forbidding army officers from attending veteran meetings and submitting for this demand a respectful petition, setting forth the report of officers to attend meetings of what Nunez declared to be only a patriotic society.

The American minister held two conferences today with Secretary Sangull.

The American minister held two conferences today with Secretary Sangull. The first was merely a courtesy call, but the second was of more importance. The British minister, Stephen Leach, also visited the secretary, but the purpose of his visit was not revealed. It is believed, however, that it did not pertain to the political crisis.

Business Conditions Improved.

The tone on the stock exchange was strong on receipt of news of possible intervention and on the board of trade there was great relief at the probable revival of business, which recently has been depressed.

From various parts of the island reports have been received that planters who have been driven from their mills have been beginning to return to the island.

This will have the excellent effect of giving employment in the fields and mills to thousands of now dissatisfied persons.

It also is reported that large orders are coming in from country merchants who for several months have been keeping down their stocks to the limit of bare necessity. There is a tendency on the part of the bankers to make loans to planters, which they have previously withheld as a result of a lack of confidence. All parts of the island continue to send in reports of peaceful conditions.

"I deny in toto that if you make every man and woman good that you will have good society. You must put the two together right, which is to say you must have social architecture or social righteousness. And to bring out a better social condition we must treat the system. If you are going to treat crime, you must go back to where crime came from.

"We cannot cure our Jay Goulds and others by jailing them. You may put wealthy malefactors behind the bars, but we will always have them with us until we go back and adjust the system. And the system and they will be gone."

Rishard Williams next took up the causes of juvenile delinquency, classing environment as one of the strong factors in filling the reform schools. "The cause of another great social evil, when girls are paid $5 to work in factories, and the cost of living is $5.50 a week. Social service," he said, "is helping to cure the evil. He pointed out the building of playgrounds for the children; Y. W. C. A.'s clubs and other social institutions for children, and young men and women.

"But we must go farther," he said, "than the social service, for it leads us to a field of economic justice. Why are the risks in our factories placed mostly upon the ones who can bear it least—the widows? The church must deal with mothers. It has a tremendous mission. It is the business of the church to give to the fighters of this world their faith and their God."

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—A suit against John Hayes Hammond was filed in the supreme court by James F. Turner alleges he was employed by Hammond on April 7, 1909, at a salary of $1,000 per year and expenses, to continue until the close of the first term of President Taft on March 4, 1913, but was dismissed on September 10, 1910, without just cause.

President in Favor Budget Systems of Other Countries as One Means of Reducing Expenses; Says Economy in Expenditures Saves Millions

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—In a special message to congress today, President Taft makes an earnest plea for an appropriation of $200,000 in order that the special commission on efficiency and economy, which is investigating the various departments of the government, may continue its work for the ensuing year. This was one of the commissions that was started to pass out of existence as a result of the Democratic program of economy.

To support his plea, the president submits a brief outline of the work that has been accomplished since July, 1910, when the commission began its work, and states that over $200,000 per year has already been saved as a result of the investigation, and the foundation laid for the annual saving of many more millions.

While the commission's report will not be completed for some time, the president, in mentioning some of the things accomplished up to date, states that it will recommend the abolishment of the revenue cutter service, which costs the government over $2,500,000 each year. In the opinion of the commission its varied activities can be performed with equal or greater advantage by other services. The commission, therefore, recommends that it be abolished. It is estimated that by so doing a saving of not less than $1,000,000 a year can be made.

Urges System to Show Details

In order that the government may be held responsible for the money that it spends, the president urges the adoption of an annual budget similar to that which exists in European countries, which will show in detail whether the money appropriated has been economically spent and whether every dollar of it has been efficiently run. In this connection, the president takes occasion to state that the United States is the only great nation whose government is operated without a budget.

The extension of civil service so as to include local officers under the departments of the treasury, the interior, the postoffice and commerce and labor, which was recommended by the president in a recent message, is treated at considerable length. According to the president, the removal of these officers from political patronage will be to the saving of a vast amount of money, but also in increased efficiency in every department.

"So long as local officers are within the sphere of political patronage," says the president, "it is difficult to consider the establishment or discontinuance of local officers apart from the effect upon local political situations. It also necessitates the president and members of congress devoting to matters of patronage time which they should devote to questions of policy and administration." That there are great many of these positions for which there is absolutely no need, is the opinion of the president, and he has accordingly ordered the commission to make a list of the best officers to be abolished. This list he will present to congress with a request for quick action.

Looking Into Employees' Pensions

The president states that the question of relieving the superannuated

government employees is also being investigated by the commission, and as soon as the work has been completed he will submit a plan to congress for the retirement of these employees.

In asking for the continuance of the commission, the president states that this is the first comprehensive effort that has ever been made to study the administrative mechanism of the government, which today employs more than 400,000 persons and has gross expenditures amounting to nearly $3,000,000,000 annually.

The commission has entered upon the preparation of three series of reports, which when completed will be submitted to congress. The first series deals with the manner in which the services of the government should be grouped in departments; the second with the organization and activities of particular services, and the third with the former organization for the performance of particular business operations.

Cites Different Methods

The president then cites different business methods employed by the various executive departments, investigated by the commission, dwelling on the varied filing systems in use for the storing away of documents of all descriptions, and suggests that a universal filing system would be of great benefit and cause a saving of money.

The waste in the distribution of public documents also comes under the presidential ban. That it costs the government more than $12,000,000 for traveling expenses for its various employees is one of the things brought to the attention of the president by the commission. In commenting upon this feature, the president suggests that a big saving can be accomplished by putting into force a mileage book system that would save the government several millions every year.

Among other expenditures commented upon are the loose purchasing methods now in vogue, and the annual cost of electric lighting, which is more than $600,000 a year. The president is in favor of installing labor-saving devices and devices which would materially decrease expenditures.

The case of George Jenkins, a Greek charged with the theft of $140 from two Greeks in a section camp south of this city several months ago, was brought to the attention of the court at noon today. Up to 2:30 o'clock this afternoon a verdict had not been reached.

What The Hefley-Arcularius Drug Co. Wants Every Person in Colorado Springs to Do

When the Hefley-Arcularius Drug Co., the enterprising druggists, first offered a large package of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price, and guaranteed to return the money if it did not cure, they thought it probable from their experience with other medicines for these diseases, that they would have a good many packages returned. But although they have sold hundreds of bottles, not one has been brought back.

The Hefley-Arcularius Drug Co. wants every person in Colorado Springs who has constipation, dyspepsia, headache, or liver trouble to come to their store or send the Hefley-Arcularius Drug Co. 25 cents by mail and get 40 doses of the best medicine ever made at half the regular price, with their personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure.

To those suffering with dizziness, headache, poor digestion, constipation and flatulence, Dr. Howard's specific offers quick relief. It is an invaluable boon to all who feel uncomfortable after eating and is today the popular dinner pill in all the large cities.

Manchu Princes in Favor of Accepting Republican Terms

PEKIN, Jan. 17.—At its next gathering, the conference of the princes of the imperial clan and the dowager empress will call into consultation members of the cabinet, the discussion of abdication having been postponed until Friday.

Many of the treasures of the Peking and Mukden palaces, worth millions of dollars, are being offered for sale. A number of American and European agents are here negotiating for their acquisition. The minor palaces and also the Forbidden city are being deplored in a similar way, and art works from their collections are being disposed of.

Mukden was the former Manchu capital, and in the palace there is a museum full of historical and sentimental relics valued at many millions of dollars.

Many arrests were made today of persons suspected of complicity in the attempted assassination of Premier Yuan Shi Kai.

One officer and another soldier have died from the wounds they sustained when the bomb was thrown, and six other soldiers are in a dangerous condition.

Have Document to Sign

NANKING, Jan. 17.—It is believed the negotiations looking to a peaceful settlement of China's troubles are approaching a conclusion. The formal document has been drawn up for signatures, and Tang Shao has been exchanging telegrams with President Sun Yat Sen. It is expected they finally have agreed concerning guarantees.

Certain Republicans positively decline to accept Yuan Shi Kai as president of the republic in place of Dr. Sun, but the former may hold the premiership in the provisional government and when peace is restored and the constitution drawn up, Yuan may have an opportunity to secure his election. Dr. Sun, however, is persisting in his determination to retire.

Manchus Favor Terms

SHANGHAI, Jan. 17.—Tang Shao Xi has received a telegram from Peking saying that as a result of today's discussions, the imperial princes are unanimously in favor of the acceptance of the Republican terms. The Manchu contingent raised some difficulties which, however, are thought to be surmountable. It is reported that the Republicans hope now to raise a loan in the United States on security of various Wu Chang properties.

Five steamers with troops aboard are lying at Woosung, above Shanghai, under orders to proceed to Chefoo.

RICE DISMISSES COUNSEL

Man Charged With Using Mails to Defraud Asks to Be Allowed to Defend Himself

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—George Graham Rice, of mining stock fame, in the United States district court today, proceeded to judge that he be allowed to defend himself. He had just informed the court by letter that he had decided to dismiss his counsel.

"I claim the right to defend myself," said the man on trial with H. H. Scheffels and others, charged with using the mails to defraud.

"But," said the court, with emphasis, "under the law you must be represented by counsel. However, I shall allow you to defend yourself as far as is practicable."

The court thereupon appointed one of the lawyers Rice dismissed to act for him, allowing the defendant to dispute with three others with whom he had a misunderstanding.

The court then concluded its case today with the introduction of more telegrams and letters. One of these was from Rice to a manager of the Chicago office. "Take a sandwich with you tonight," the message read, "and look for a live one. If he won't buy my Central, hit him a good one."

NEW WITNESS APPEARS AT TRIAL OF PACKERS

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—New interest was added to the trial of the Chicago packers today when Walter A. Cook, formerly a trusted employee of Morris & Co., arrived here, prepared to take the stand against the defendants as one of the government's witnesses.

Well was formerly branch manager for Morris & Co., and is said to have an intimate knowledge of the details of the packers' business methods. It is expected that he will testify either tomorrow or Friday.

Harry A. Timmin, accountant for Morris & Co., was on the stand all day. Timmin said the prices for hams and shoulders fluctuated at times so as to make a difference of 25 cents per 100 pounds in figuring the cost of meat.

About 30 pounds of fat were obtained from each steer and the weight of hides averaged 65 pounds, Timmin testified.

NEW CANDIDATE FOR FEDERAL JUDGESHIP

ROSWELL, N. M., Jan. 17.—Determined opposition among the political enemies to block the confirmation of William Pope of Roswell as federal judge, was today supplemented by the declaration of the candidacy of E. C. Abbott of Santa Fe for the honor.

A lengthy telegram in protest sent to Washington last week was followed today by a second telegram giving events in Pope's record showing alleged prejudice and lack of qualification.

WITHHELD INFORMATION

DYNAMITE CONSPIRACY

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 17.—Statements that certain men knew about the dynamite conspiracy as early as October, 1909, but that their information was withheld for purposes of prosecution, came to the attention of the federal grand jury today.

The fact became known through the story told by John Halfman, a saloon keeper. According to Halfman, a room rented at his saloon by strangers was used as a meeting place for the men who blew up a building under construction by Albert Von Spreckelsen, an "open shop" contractor in Indianapolis. One of the visitors at Halfman's place was identified by Mrs. Alta Hawkins as a man who just before the explosion told her "to look out for a big noise."

Impressed with what he learned, Charles A. Bookwalter, then mayor of Indianapolis, later said he urged the police to question this man as to who was concerned in the dynamiting, but no prosecutions resulted.

WORK FOR ITS OWN SAKE

John Ruskin. A man or woman in public or in private life, who ever works only for the sake of the reward that comes for the work, will in the long run do poor work always. I do not care where the work is, the man or woman who does work worth doing is the man or woman who lives, breathes and sleeps that work; with whom it is ever present in his or her soul; whose ambition is to do it well and feel rewarded by the thought of having done it well.

That man, that woman, puts the whole country under an obligation.

CANO-DOWNS

Colonel Wilson's battles for many years and had idealized his chief. Although I was given no reason to suppose myself included in the disfigure which had fallen upon Colonel Harvey, I experienced a sense of something very much like indignation, but in reflection I could not find myself immediately of the impression that Governor Wilson had been receiving letters from Kentucky written by enemies of mine who seek to use his name and fame to gain some ends of their own, warning him against me, and that to all intents I sat in the same boat with Colonel Harvey.

No Longer Possible to Suppress.

"I am in receipt of Maxey's statement to the contrary. I wish this had reached me earlier. I have reason to believe that Colonel Harvey withheld his statement for the same cause and with the same hope. It being no longer possible to suppress the matter at issue, this full statement which I make most reluctantly is for a full and impartial knowledge by the public, but more fully by the many and loyal Democrats who are so earnestly seeking a leader in the coming contest."

(Signed) HENRY WATKINSON.

The break between Governor Wilson and Col. George Harvey has brought out the leaders of the old Bryan strength in Wisconsin against the New Jersey man. Matt J. Hogan, one of the strongest of the old Democratic leaders, tonight issued a letter to John A. Ayward, of Madison, head of the Wisconsin campaign in the state for Wilson, declaring that under no circumstances would he now add to the campaign of the New Jersey governor.

Newspaper Comments Meager.

The comments of the Havana newspapers are meager and are characterized generally by patriotic adulations to all Cubans, regardless of their political affiliations; to forget past and present differences and unite loyally in obeying the laws and preserving order without giving the least excuse for foreign intervention as the only way whereby the independence of the republic can be maintained.

morning by Hugh H. Gibson.

Secretary Sangre's dispatches to all Cuban ministers abroad, giving the purpose of the American note, with the assurance that the Cuban government would proceed with serious effort to the satisfaction of the Cuban people and the law and the preservation of the peace.

Nunez Followers Weaken.

General Nunez, president of the Veterans' association, in an interview today reaffirmed his opinion that the United States was not justified in threatening intervention, because the Veterans' association was a purely patriotic organization, similar to the Grand Army of the Republic. It had broken no laws, nor had it defied the authority of the government. It was listed only for the purpose of promoting the welfare of the republic by constitutional means.

To Withdraw Address.

General Nunez held a conference today with the secretary of the Veterans' association, when it was decided that the veterans should withdraw their previous address to the president, demanding annulment of the decree forbidding army officers from attending veteran meetings and submitting for this demand a respectful petition, setting forth the report of officers to attend meetings of what Nunez declared to be only a patriotic society.

Business Conditions Improved.

The tone in the stock exchange was strong on receipt of news of possible intervention and on the board of trade there was great relief at the probable revival of business, which recently has been depressed.

From various parts of the island reports have been received that planters who heretofore have been afraid to begin grinding now intend to put their mills into immediate operation. This will have the excellent effect of giving employment in the fields and mills to thousands of now dissatisfied persons.

THE COLORADO PROGRESSIVES

WITH a singular faculty which suggests Ajax defying the lightning, or King Canute commanding the tide not to rise, The Evening Telegraph continues to stand pat. The old party structure is crumbling, and the old party leaders are discredited, most of all the idol to which it makes obeisance with each setting sun—His Excellency, William H. Taft. But still The Telegraph stands pat. Taft is the Lord's Anointed, it will have him, and none other. Anybody who thinks differently is a traitor, not only to the sacred elephant of Republicanism, but to the American Government and the American people.

It may be remarked, parenthetically, that this is the historical attitude of the standpatter. King John was convinced that he alone possessed rights which anybody was bound to respect, until the barons forced him to sign Magna Charta—and he probably held the conviction even after he signed it. Charles I firmly believed that he ruled by divine right, and held the conviction until the actual moment that his head fell from the block. A staunch belief in the eternal infallibility of the established order has been held by every standpatter in history, including not only the worthies already mentioned but George III, Senator Aldrich, Uncle Joe Cannon and a few others who might be included in this incongruous grouping. It is not so strange, then, that even the intelligent Evening Telegraph has not seen the light.

This brings us to a consideration of the editorial dislike of the SINCERE. Colorado Progressives voiced yesterday by the contemporary, and inspired by the Progressive meeting in Denver last Tuesday. The fundamental error contained in that article is in the assumption that the Progressives are trying to make somebody believe that they are Republicans, first, last and always, but that their present attitude shows the falsity of this claim and consequently convicts them of hypocrisy. We do not presume to speak with authority except insofar as we speak for The Gazette. However, we have an idea that there are plenty of other Progressives who feel the same way. They are not trying "to bring all Republicans together" in the usual sense of that term, which is a shifty compromise which nobody expects will outlast a single campaign and which is intended almost wholly to land jobs for the faithful. But the Progressives do hope, and believe that eventually they will "bring all Republicans together" in support of the principles of truly representative government which they are now advocating.

Reversing the figures of The Telegraph, our assumption is that fully 80 per cent. of the Republicans in Colorado prefer either Roosevelt or La Follette to Taft as the presidential nominee. But again our contemporary is in error in assuming that the Progressives ought to proclaim their entire willingness to support with enthusiasm whatever candidate is nominated, whether he be a Progressive or a pronounced reactionary. If they took this stand their efforts would be wholly ineffectual, for it would be understood by everybody from the very beginning, including the old organization leaders, that they only expected to shoot off a few fireworks and then be good and vote the party ticket straight on election day.

Again speaking only for The Gazette, we assert that a Progressive Republican, or any other citizen with brains enough to do his own thinking, not only should, but is in duty bound to, "reserve the right to vote and to support Democrats or others," whenever in his judgment conditions warrant such action. To do otherwise is to remain a mere party hack, an individually small, but in the aggregate important instrument for perpetuating the very conditions which he is fighting.

The whole theory of party loyalty on which The In Party Telegraph's contention is based is fundamentally wrong and subversive of popular government. It is best summed up in that choice bit of political idiosyncrasy, "my party, right or wrong, but still my party." The man whose vision is bounded by the temporary welfare of his party is too short-sighted to catch even a glimpse of the broader welfare of his fellow citizens and his country as a whole. Unless a wonderful change comes over him he will continue to the end of his days to vote the party ticket straight, not because his better judgment tells him to do so but because his instructions from headquarters read that way. And the saddest aspect of the case is his ignorance, or indifference, to the fact that in so doing he is perpetuating the evils of misgovernment and political corruption in state and nation from which he, in common with ninety million others, suffers.

Carried to its logical conclusion the doctrine of unwavering party loyalty means total renunciation of the right of individual judgment in political affairs—which, in effect, means abdication of the right of government by and for the people. The Progressives in nation and state fully recognize the necessity of political parties and of strong party organization. In their strong adherence to the best ideals of their party they are better Republicans today than the vociferous advocates of party regularity who can see no farther than the advantages to be gained by winning elections and securing offices.

The "malcontents" who met in Denver Tuesday are more than anxious to work within the party, but they do not propose to sacrifice their aims and aspirations in the slightest degree in the fear either of being read out of the party or of finding themselves in a position where they must leave it by their own initiative. In other words, they are committed first of all to the attainment of certain definite aims, and they intend to keep on "insurgency" until they get them, this year if possible, but if not next year or as soon thereafter as may be. And if the G. O. P. elephant is already too decrepit to take such strong medicine—so much the worse for the elephant.

THE SOCIALISTS.

To the Editor of The Gazette
This being the year for presidential election it would be natural that one should hear much political discussion, but as one is on the streets or in the different places where men congregate, it is surprising to note how little of one hears. Plenty of talk about the tariff, cost of living, the scarcity of work, the dullness of business, and the general hard time we are all having to "make both ends meet," but no politics until socialism is mentioned. The moment that is mentioned it becomes at once apparent that a live subject has been started. Ask a man what his political belief is and if he answers that he is a Republican you still want to know if he is a Progressive. He is very apt to be one, but entirely without enthusiasm and almost always without any comprehensive idea about what Progressivism stands for or what it proposes to do to remedy the evils from which society is suffering. The same is true if he happens to be a Democrat. Even the fact that father was a Republican or Democrat doesn't seem to be a reason any more.

Very often you are told what ticket they have always voted, but that they are going to vote the Socialist ticket this time. In most cases it is either a convert to Socialism or a mighty good prospect for one soon. Go to the public library and look through the magazines and newspapers. You will find that Socialism is beginning to be the subject there. In all this Socialism can well afford to be content, knowing that a little while will never cure the cancer, that Progressivism has a colossal job on its hands to remedy existing evils by the means proposed (the giving of a little soothing syrup). As Lincoln said, "This country can no longer exist half free and half slave," so people are beginning to realize that this country can no longer exist 1 per cent wealthy and 99 per cent poor. They are beginning to realize that nothing short of his full product given to him who produces it will ever create a condition of equitable justice among men. For this the principles of socialism should be welcomed by those who profess to be followers of the Man of Galilee. One living under such a system, getting not merely what was his own but all that was his own, and finding his family and self well clothed, housed and fed, without the necessity of long hours of heartbreaking toil or of long nerve-racking days of unemployment, or of competing with his fellowmen for the chance to make a living, would have some chance to live the life of Jesus of Nazareth. Think of this, you who are trying to solve the problem of why the working classes are becoming alienated from the church.

HE LIKES THE GAZETTE.

To the Editor of The Gazette.
I am writing to you my appreciation of your valuable paper. I like the "Open Parliament," also Pastor Russell's sermons. They seem to be the most reasonable explanation of the Bible I ever heard or read. To me they explain why this sin, sickness and death cursed world has to remain so until God's plan is fully consummated in due time. Thanking you for your good selections and hoping you will continue the sermons, I remain,

ANOTHER "VOICE OF DISCONTENT"

To the Editor of The Gazette
Once upon a time an attorney was heard to say, "Justice? Justice? There is no such thing as justice." This statement reached the ears of a philosophic mind, and while the cold chills ran down his politically inclined spine, he took a panoramic view of the conditions existing in the entire Christian world, and then soliloquized by saying, "That attorney came so near telling the truth, that he did not lie."
The conditions found were the wrongful distribution of wealth, and the distribution of justice at the ratio of one to ninety-nine.
This soliloquy having reached the ear of an attorney who was engaged in the defense of one of the vilest of criminals, he was led to shout at the height of his forensic voice, "Justice? Justice? To hades with your justice. It is not justice that I demand for my client, but a fair trial."
That attorney had reached the "ideal" in human thought, and so say we all, give us a fair trial—we do not want more, but we do want a fair trial, in our race from the cradle to the grave, in the pursuit of happiness. We want all the laws taken down, so that each may have an equal chance for the goal. We do not all want to be millionaires, or wear a crown, except it be the crown of success.
You cannot reach this haven by a vote for the Progressive Republican ticket, neither can you reach it by a vote for the Democratic, or by a vote for any other political ticket.

Less than four years ago by our votes we placed in power the brightest mind that the world ever produced. He took a horoscopic view of the minds of the legal fraternity and found one mind that had passed the darker shades and was just emerging from the gray, and the possessor of that mind now assumes to have the right to write the word reasonable, or any other word for that matter, into our laws. So when you again read the charter of our liberty, read it thus: "All men are created NEARLY equal and are endowed by their Creator with certain UN-REASONABLE rights, as life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

I am not a veteran, neither am I the son of a veteran, but my Creator has endowed me with such a degree of pure patriotism that the example above given has caused me to lose all faith in the betterments of any political party. What we demand is a fair trial, and this can only be had under the rule of a general business manager—one who is not tied hand and foot by partyanship or wealth. Give this manager, by constitutional law, the right to demonstrate both gold and silver, the right to acquire both the telegraph and express lines and make them adjuncts of our postal system.

Our postal system is the nucleus around which may cluster all the reforms that are necessary to break down all the bars of class and class legislation.

Banish gold as you would a viper. It is the demon of discontent.

It has ruined our lives. It has made our homes desolate and has stamped its impress of greed on the lives of many who now live and of the many who will follow us in the pursuit of happiness, and for them we demand a fair trial.

It is indeed thrilling to believe, it is not too much to hope; nay, we are led to expect, by reason of the conditions which surround us, that at some future period in the world's history, when the expansive properties of intelligence shall have opened a few more eyes, that there will come a day when in all this fair land, from the golden gates of the Pacific slope to the rock ribbed shores of the Atlantic, from the frozen lakes of the Canadian line to the sandy shores of the sunny south there can nowhere be found either a ward politician or a gold dollar.

MRS. PRICE'S STATE SONG

To the Editor of The Gazette:
In behalf of the song, "Colorado," composed by Mrs. Maud McFerran Price, I wish to say a few words.

In my opinion it is one of the most beautiful compositions I have ever had the pleasure to listen to.

It is emblematic of our state in every respect, bringing out its grandeur and sublimity and reminding us of the Indian and pioneer in its beautiful melody.

It inspires awe for the past as well as hope for the future, and as a chorus it cannot be surpassed. I have taught it to my classes ever since the first appearance, with ease and success, for the children love it.

To the one who criticized as to it being too difficult, allow me to cite to her the "Star-Spangled Banner."

There's not much joy-in splendor—eat that truth down today; the happiness is slender one gets from vain display. Around town in a motor in majesty I romp, and many a footstep voter doth marvel at my pomp, but all that fun on my old Texas pony that cost but little mon. Around the links I teeter and say that golf is great! My bathroom fairly glitters with costly tub and bowl, but oh, to join the critters down at the swimming hole! By merchants I am trusted, for I have seeds to spare, but long ago, when busted, I lacked this lead to save. I'm cutting quite a dash in the burr where I abide. I am the glass of fashion throughout the countryside; and all the gilded smarties whose gens are not in pawn come to my famous parties and prance around my lawn. There are a thousand reasons why I should like my hall, but oh, the happy seasons when I wore overalls!

THE GRAND POMP IS PHONEY—I HAD A LOT MORE FUN ON MY OLD TEXAS PONY THAT COST BUT LITTLE MON.

Links I teeter and say that golf is great! My bathroom fairly glitters with costly tub and bowl, but oh, to join the critters down at the swimming hole! "Oh dear, I do so hate to have to say, 'Haven't you something less expensive?' I heard a young girl complain the other day. "I do hope the time will come when I shall have some money, so that I can go into a shop and order what I want and not even ask the price."

Let me tell you, little girl, and all your sisters who have felt the same way, when the time comes that you have "some money," as you put it, it is very likely that you will be just as much interested in prices, and not so much afraid to show your interest, as you are now.

That is, if you are like the average woman of means.

Do you know, I am constantly more impressed with the fact that it appears to be only the rich people who dare to be economical, only the people who don't need to count the pennies who are willing to be seen counting them.

A day or two after Christmas, the time when bargains are supposed to grow on every tree, I went shopping. And the thing that impressed me even more than the bargains I found, was the number of richly dressed, and evidently well-to-do women who were bargain hunting.

You would certainly have thought, from the way these women were dressed, that they were of the class who might go into any shop at any season of the year and order anything they wanted without even inquiring the price. And yet there they were, standing three deep around the counter, waiting their turn for a share of the clerk's attention, and even enduring the manifold discomforts of shopping on a stormy morning, in order to take advantage of the bargains.

The other day a neighbor of mine, who has a very comfortable income, set off on a journey across the continent. And how do you suppose he started on that journey? He walked down to the station beside the gardener, who pushed a wheelbarrow loaded with his master's trunk.

Now I'll wager that none of his less prosperous neighbors would have dared to do that. They would have thought it absolutely necessary at least to have the trunk taken down by an expressman, and probably to have hired a cab.

So it goes. Those who need to look long at the pennies before they spend them, don't even dare to be careful of the dimes. And those who apparently can afford to be careless of their dollars aren't afraid to be seen counting their pennies.

"Perhaps," someone reminds me, "perhaps it's because these people didn't stop counting their pennies the moment prosperity threw a glance their way, that she continues to abide with them, instead of merely making them the fleeting visits she pays to most of us."

Well, there is something in that, my friend.

The Great Conflict A Half Century Ago Today

JANUARY 18, 1862

John Tyler, sometime president of the United States, died at Richmond, Va., aged 71. Until the climax in the secession movement he had been flying on his plantation near Hampton, Va. The crisis had brought him out of his retirement. Like many other Virginians, he had endeavored to avert a disruption of the Union and to restore peace between the north and south. When his state finally seceded, he had gone with it, and at his death his interests and sympathies were with the southern cause.

Captain Phelps of the United States gunboat Conistoga engaged a wooded point in the Tennessee river, a short distance below Fort Henry, in a spirited manner. A number of trees were utterly destroyed. Captain Phelps was in the belief that the wooded point concealed a Confederate battery. He had come from Cairo for the purpose of ascertaining the enemy's strength. The Conistoga suffered no injuries.

Captains Murdock and Webster returned to Cairo from an expedition to Bloomfield, Mo., where they had captured a small Confederate force and a number of officers.

Banner, and even "America," as being difficult. "Colorado" has grand words, therefore must have grand music, no ragtime. My pupils are going to sing it at their closing banquet, Thursday, January 18, at 2:30 p.m.

THE OLD HOUSE

Forgotten in the mad whirl of today, it stands far back from one great city street. As though to shrink within the kind retreat. Of stately elms, that border all the way. The tangled paths, where those were wont to stray. Whose birth the old house knew, and which, forsooth, sheltered their childhood and their careless youth. Deserted in its old age and decay. By all except the birds, who come to nest. And bring their wee brown wives there in the spring. With sunny roof and sagging doors and gates. And crumbling porch that once invited rest. It turns its dim, old sockets questioning. Where all its friends have gone and waits and waits.

GOOD LUCK SIGNS ON THE MOON

There Is Much Lore Related to or in Connection With It

George Morley, Shakespeare's Greenwood.

The folklore connected with Shakespeare's greenwood relating to or connected with the moon is both extensive and interesting. There is first of all, a steadfast belief that the wise woman of the village culls her simples by the light of the moon—otherwise no virtue attaches to them. The maiden, too, when sowing the fern seed which she gathered for her love charm on Midsummer day, must sow the seed by moonlight and repeat as she scatters it:

Fern seed I sow, fern seed I hope
In hopes my true love will come after me and more.

or else she will not attain her heart's desire.

In all matters relating to the moon the greatest good follows the doing of the correct thing. When the first new moon of the year makes its appearance it is the correct thing for every countryman of leafy Warwickshire, when seeing it for the first time to howl to nine times to secure good luck for the coming year. * * * It is also common practice to turn the money in the pocket when each succeeding moon is seen for the first time.

One of the surest signs of fair weather is in the belief of the Warwickshire rustic, connected with the appearance of the moon. When the moon sits perfectly stagnant in the sky, with her horns pointing upward when as Adam Poyser says in "Adam Bede": "It lies like a boat," there is never likely to be any rain for some little time. "There's many signs as is false, conjaques Poyser," but that's sure; and certainly the peasants of Shakespeare's greenwood have an invincible faith in that sign. The prognostication for rain among these country dwellers is when the crescent moon starts downward, and in fact the boat figure is reversed. It is believed that the moon is so tilted that the rain will run out at the horns.

The Japanese intend to take their own census according to European methods.

16 North Tejon

IN THE EARLY DAYS

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 18, 1882.
Tom Wanless had ordered plate glass from Pittsburg for the windows of all the stores owned by him on Tejon street.

A boiler used for steam heating purposes at the Stretell ranch exploded, doing considerable damage but not injuring anyone.

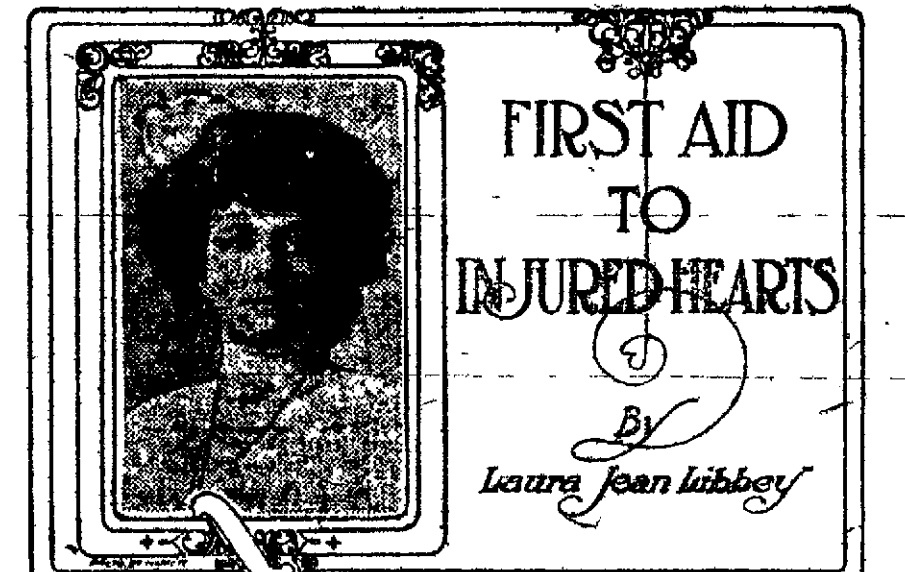

Travel to and from Colorado Springs on the D. & R. G., then the only railroad entering the city, was said to be very light.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 18, 1892.
Col. E. T. Ensign left for a trip to Des Moines, Iowa.

N. O. Johnson, a well-known dry goods merchant, took his two sons, Herbert and Harry, into partnership, the firm name being changed to N. O. Johnson & Sons.

The weekly session of the city council was marked by long and acrimonious arguments concerning the appointment of a sewer inspector and the enforcement of the liquor laws.

Sickly Lovers

[Copyrighted, 1912, by Laura Jean Libbey.]

It takes a woman of heroic courage such as the Spartan women were possessed of to make up her mind to wed a lover who is pronounced hopelessly ill. The girl who dares in such an instance, declaring that "where there's life, there's hope," of his recovery, resolves upon some desperate measure to better his health. Instead of passing their honeymoon at some fashionable resort, the bride has quite a different plan laid out.

She declares to him that she is most enthusiastic about a trip to the Maine woods to a certain log cabin she knows of. Even though the snow may be raging outside, it would be all the more novel and delightful. Look at the money they will save, she whispers archly.

One of the family servants whom they call take as cook won't be expensive. Cook's husband can be the man of all work, build fires, shovel snow. "But about the eating part?" the pleased bridegroom asks mechanically. "Why, the game walks up to your door to see if the fire's hot enough for broiling," she laughs.

Her insistence conquers, even though he is dubious of results. They do not find it as glowing as fancy pictured. There's a five-mile walk to the nearest grocer's and the game is like a young maiden—certainly shy.

Cook and man-of-all-work took French leave, and they were left on their own resources to work out their own salvation. The dishes they had supposed to be packed turned out to be the wrong ones, cut glass dishes instead of the much-needed soup bowls and spoons. The folding camp chairs had been left behind and an ironing bench brought instead. And so on through all the score of barrels which they took out.

She laughed at his consternation so heartily that he had to catch her spirit of mirth. Being snowed in until snow melted in the spring would have been no laughing matter to some, but she caused him to make light of it as she did. There were no long tramps through the snow to a neighboring camp where half a dozen jolly hunters, families were ensconced. A bountiful spread was sure to be set forth for them, but they always returned to their own domicile hungry as ever. While he piled more logs on the glowing fire, she set about preparing such a dish of potatoes, fried bacon, to say nothing of the steaming onions and hot Johnnie cake, honey, and coffee, as would have made any man's heart rejoice. Their laughter and merriment drove out the wild howling of the wind outside, tearing through the Maine woods.

Lying close to nature built up splendid health for both such as nothing else on this earth could have done. It surely takes a loving, determined woman to brave all difficulties and make even a sickly lover a stalwart husband that any woman might be proud of.

"Now the question is, shall I 'shake' him? I have had a position offered to me in California and would take it, but I can't bear the thought of leaving him. I told him of it, but he laughed and said I loved my home and old friends too well to leave them for strangers." Dear Miss Libbey, will you answer soon and advise my what course to take? HELENA.

Yes, you better "shake" him, Helena. He is a selfish specimen, who wouldn't count much in matrimony anyhow. Let him go. Don't waste time with men of his type. It is the surest way to be railroaded to old maidhood.

FLIRTING GIRLS, READ THIS!

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am 22 and would like your advice on one thing. About two years ago I worked a good distance from home and had to ride on the street cars, and there used to be a girl on the car to whom I took a liking. Now, to my luck, I met this girl this summer and have been keeping company with her ever since. I fell in love with her, and thinking of this flirting I had done with her I asked her if she remembered of me flirting with her; she said no, but if she had she would have flirted with me had she known what she does now. You advise me if I'm doing right or this girl only a flirt? She is true to me and has been since I went with her. ROLAND B."

No, she is not a flirt. She didn't evidently realize how cheap and common she was acting. She won't do it again.

THREE NIGHTS A WEEK!
"Dear Miss Libbey: I have been going with a girl for three years steady, calling on her three nights a week but am not engaged to her, and I love her dearly and I know she loves me, as she has promised to marry me and put her arms around my neck and kisses me good night when I leave her. She is 19 and I am 21, but every time I mention marrying she always says, 'Some day,' I am working in an office, getting $55 per month. Now what do you suppose is her reason for always saying 'some day'?" Don't you think we could get along comfortably on my salary? —HENRY S."

She wants to wait a while. She is sensible. You both are rather young yet. Wait a bit.

SHE LOVES SINCERELY.

"Dear Miss Libbey. Since almost two years I love sincerely and with all my heart a young man who adores me, sacrificing everything to procure me contentment and happiness. The idea to lose him makes me very unhappy, brings me almost to despair. Now, my sweetheart, when he was a boy, seven years, met with an accident, made a fall, and hurt his back. Being of healthy constitution and parentage, he recovered promptly, but as a result of the accident a slight curvature of the spine remained. He is now 25 years old, a graduate of state university. In society they like him very much for his fine education and a most agreeable character, and then I think he is a nice boy. I know several girls and even married ladies who have followed him with their love. I would be glad to have your advice. I think of marrying him as soon as I can. Yes, marry him if he asks you and you love him as you say you do. The accident wouldn't make any difference so far as I can judge—surely not if you love him.

"IOWA GIRL."

Yes, marry him if he asks you and you love him as you say you do. The accident wouldn't make any difference so far as I can judge—surely not if you love him.

There will be no drill Tuesday, January 23, 1912.
In accordance with adjutant general's order No. 43 (series of 1911), the inspecting officer detailed from the United States army will inspect this organization Monday, January 22, 1912, at 8:30 a. m. Every member of the organization must be present at the armory not later than 7:30 p. m. on this date. Attendance at this inspection is enjoined upon every member of the company.

SCENERY INSTALLED SOON

According to representatives of the Twin City Theater Supply company, who are doing the work, the curtains and special scenery for the new Burns theater should be installed by February 1. The work is being pushed rapidly. The stage appointments, costing $20,000, are said to be the finest ever made for a Colorado theater.

The special model ordered has caused a delay in the shipping of chairs for the theater. They are being made to order and should arrive by the first of next month.

LITTLE BUSINESS DONE

Petty strife marked the closing session of the County Commissioners' association of Colorado, in Denver, yesterday. Nothing of importance was done, and the one resolution denouncing the action of the Good Roads association in its convention at Pueblo, January 11, was tabled, and there it remained through adjournment. The resolution endorsing the $10,000,000 roads appropriation was also tabled.

Harry Hutchinson, commissioner from El Paso county, was chosen vice chairman of the legislative committee, with full power to act. He declared, yesterday afternoon, upon his return to this city, that the first act of the committee will be an effort to have the supreme court grant an early hearing on house bill 200, which has to do with good roads appropriations in the state.

VARIED PROGRAM OUTLINED

The program for the Burns banquet, which will be given by the Caledonian society, at the Antlers hotel, January 24, has been completed. Among the speakers are Frank C. Goudy, Denver, who will deliver the principal address; Attorney Samuel H. Kinsley, the Rev. Samuel Garvin, pastor of the First Presbyterian church; former State Senator John B. Stephen, Philip B. Stewart and Dr. W. V. Mullin. A fine orchestra will furnish the music. Dr. J. T. Muir, chief of the society, will preside as toastmaster. The official pipers will be Colin R. Ross, Denver, and John Morrison, Colorado Springs.

MINING MARK ACTIVE

There was a heavy volume of trading on the Mining Exchange yesterday. Elton and El Paso taking the lead. Under comparatively heavy selling they maintained their strength. Six thousand six hundred shares of Elton were sold at 69 and 69 1/4, closing at the latter figure, while 24 to 75 1/4 cents were the prices on 4,700 El Paso shares.

CONCERT BIG SUCCESS

The Royal Welsh Ladies choir entertained an enthusiastic audience at the First Presbyterian church last night. Their singing was appreciated because of the richness and musical quality of the voices. Madame Hughes-Thomas demonstrated her ability as leader by the way in which she managed her singers. The program was varied in such a manner as to make it exceedingly enjoyable.

MINING FIGHT UP TODAY

The climax of the bitter fight between the Hinds and Rapp factions for control of the Gold Sovereign Mining and Tunnel company will be reached today in Cripple Creek at the annual stockholders' meeting. L. A. Van Tilborg, who is styled an independent candidate, but who is claimed to back Rapp, is in the race for presidency against O. H. Hinds, incumbent, of Le Mars, Ia. No prediction of the outcome would be made yesterday either by James P. Burns or J. F. Hawkins, two local stockholders who are interested in Van Tilborg's election.

QUININE DOESN'T CURE BAD COLDS

How to Really Break a Severe Cold and End All Grippe Misery in Just a Few Hours.

You will distinctly feel your cold breaking and all the Grippe symptoms leaving after taking the very first dose.

It is a positive fact that Paper's Cold Compound, taken every two hours, will break the cold and break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach or limbs.

"It promptly relieves the most miserable headache, dizziness, brain and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges."

Paper's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or grippe.

Take this harmless compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or end grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Paper's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

EXTENSIVE ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN IN STAT. SOON

More Than 1,000,000 Postcards to Be Sent From Colorado Broadcast Over United States.

The most extensive postcard campaign ever inaugurated in Colorado will be launched by the various commercial causes of the state in the immediate future. The decision to start the campaign was reached at the meeting of the Colorado Association of Commercial Secretaries, held in Greeley, last Monday. School children all over the state will be engaged in the work, and on one day, to be selected later, hundreds of thousands of postcards will be sent by them to their friends and relatives throughout the United States. A committee of 40 men will make a tour of the state, giving instructions to the children in regard to their part in the mammoth advertising campaign.

More than 1,000,000 postcards, furnished by the railroads, will be sent from the state to boost trout fishing in this region. Maps of automobile routes and pleasure drives have been furnished, and secretaries in the state, and will be sent out by them to motorists and garages over the country.

The next meeting of the association will be held at Grand Junction in April. It is planned to have photographs taken of the fruit trees which will be in blossom at that time, so that postcards of the scene can be made and sent broadcast as an additional advertisement for the region.

Former Employee Sues Midland for $30,000

William N. Oliver, injured by a switching engine in the Colorado Midland yards in Colorado City, last November, filed suit in the district court yesterday, asking $30,000 damages from the road.

Oliver was employed as a switchman, and, according to the complaint, it was necessary at times for him to ride on a switch engine. November 10, he alleges, he was thrown from an engine, sustaining severe injuries to his spine, shoulders and neck.

Peabody Gives $1,000 Toward Palmer Fund

A contribution of $1,000 has been made by George Foster Peabody of New York to the Palmer memorial fund. Mr. Peabody and the late Gen. William J. Palmer were close friends. The contribution was announced yesterday by President William F. Slocum of Colorado college, who is chairman of the memorial fund committee. Contributions also have been made by eastern friends. The committee will meet again in a few days and make a full report.

DEAN HART TO TALK HERE

Dean H. Martyn Hart of Denver and the Rev. Frank Hale Tourer of Grace church will exchange pulpits next Sunday morning and evening, the former preaching at Grace church in both services. In the morning he will speak on "The Essentials of Salvation, Truth and Obedience," and the evening he will have "Truth About Healing" for his subject. Dean Hart will also deliver the sermon at the Colorado college vesper services, Sunday afternoon.

Face Paint Tabooed; Remove Skin Instead

"A few years ago only one class of women painted their faces," says Dolly Madison, in Chicago News. "It was a sign of social ostracism, and was tabooed in refined circles. The custom has become so universal we must admit it is to be deplored and to be shelved as soon as possible." How foolish to seek artificial beauty of this sort, obnoxious from artistic and moral standpoints, when it is so easy to obtain a truly natural complexion by the use of ordinary mercurized wax. An ounce of mercurized wax, obtainable at any drug store, will cause such a transformation, no need think of using anything else for the purpose. Applied 10 to 15 times a night, and washed off in the morning, it at once begins to show its remarkable rejuvenating effects. It gently absorbs the lifeless surface skin in tiny particles, revealing the fresher, healthier, beautiful under-skin. Naturally, it takes with it all surface defects.

WHAT ABOUT THAT MONEY OF YOURS?

Is it so placed as to pay you a steady income, and where you do not need to worry about its safety, and where it is earning you an adequate return for just what it is doing?

Are you leaving it idle because you do not know just where to place it advantageously? Is it lying in the bank without interest, or for a trifle, and is someone using it and getting the benefit while you wait?

Why should not the saver and the direct investor of money get together direct and why should not the man who has a few hundreds or a few thousands get the full returns on his capital? Why, if his money is to be used developing the resources of the country and making large and legitimate profits, should he not unite his capital with the initiative energy and enterprise of some going, established and successful concern, to their mutual advantage, and share in a large way in their success?

Why not put your money in banks either without interest or for a small per cent, for them to put into the channels of trade?

Because you are taking a certain risk without full return for this risk, and others are really reaping the harvest of your self-denial and frugality.

The second party is the middle man, who furnishes your money to the actual users, and shares with you the earnings of your capital for this service, while you take the risks with him, and the investor's successful handling of this capital is the basis of both your income and his. The borrower, wise and conservative handling of these funds represents the safety of your capital, and if successful operation is the result of the borrower's ventures, then you get your small interest profit and your capital returned at the end of the term; otherwise, not, and you are the loser without a remedy beyond certain limits.

Now, there is a way to get the full return, adequate to the risk, and the latter can be reduced to the minimum, or practically eliminated. Suppose, for instance, you join your capital with some successful firm, some organization in a good line of business, that has made good profits year by year, and who has an established organization of competent men, each selected because of some special qualification.

Seldom is there found a man with strength in all lines, and great success has always been made by organization.

It is necessary to be able to say, I see it, I know it, I can't, I will!

Organization gives a firm the strength that is represented by all their force. Discrimination, knowledge, confidence and determination, and the net result, large success. When a concern has developed these qualities and has honest management, they can use your capital with the very best results, and you get the full return. Get some preferred stock that is cumulative, sharing in the full earnings, and preferred both as to dividends and assets, and you have one of the very best safe investments.

We want to call your attention at this time to the Yates-McClain Realty Co. of Colorado Springs, whose wide operations in the wholesale and retail lands business has brought them upward with phenomenal strides, and whose future is unusually promising. Starting nine years ago, practically without money, from small beginnings, their operations amount to millions annually, and their assets show by actual invoice nine hundred thousand dollars. Do you not think that this company, with such a showing, would be a good and safe company to invest in? Their large operations call for larger capital, and they are going to sell a limited amount of preferred stock to extend its working power.

This stock pays 5 per cent before any of the common stock takes anything, and it shares further up to the full earnings of the company. With the same rate of earning power as for the past two years, this stock should pay the investor 15 per cent, and this continued, will establish a value of considerable more than par.

The chance is now open, and you can get a limited amount of this stock at par.

Call at their offices, Rooms 15 to 23, El Paso building, and have them explain this proposition fully.

MUCH INTEREST SHOWN IN GLEE CLUB CONCERT

More than usual interest is shown in the concert of the Colorado College Glee club, to be given tomorrow evening in Perkins hall. From present indications a crowded house will greet the young men when they make their initial bow, and those patronizing the concert will not be disappointed. Dr. Vere Styles Richards has prepared a program full of surprises.

ELECTION FEB. 14 ON IRRIGATION DISTRICT

The county commissioners yesterday decided upon February 14 as the date upon which to hold an election regarding the proposed irrigation district in the Fountain valley. The election will determine whether bonds will be issued and an irrigation system purchased, presumably from the Fountain Valley Land and Irrigation company, at a cost of approximately $300,000. It is said a majority of the farmers in the valley favor the purchase. The county commissioners have no interest in the matter, and say the only way to reach a decision is to call an election.

SUES FORMER MANAGER

The Lake George Development company filed suit in the district court yesterday against John M. Kellogg, asking for $500 damages and either a judgment of $1,000 or certain chattels and personal property.

According to the complaint, Kellogg was general manager of the company from July 25, 1910, to July 15, 1911, and in that capacity had charge of the company's operations, consisting of ranching, cutting, storing and selling ice. In that period of time, it is said, defendant handled about $100,000 for the company, the account being carried in the First National bank. Plaintiff alleges that Kellogg still retains possession of the company's books, and that it has been unable to obtain them. The suit is brought to secure the books referred to or a judgment of $1,000 and damages amounting to $500.

The "U" division of North End W. C. T. U. will hold a rummage sale in Alamo sample rooms, Cuchara street, Saturday. Good, clean clothing for sale.

Mayor Will Investigate Safety Public Buildings

Some of the new motion picture houses which it is proposed to open here may never be completed, at least on the sites now being considered. Mayor Avery referred to the matter of motion picture shows at yesterday's council meeting, saying they should be operated only in buildings on a street corner or having alley exits.

"I want the city attorney to look up the law pertaining to the matter," the mayor said, "and see if the city can prevent opening a motion picture house at 104 North Tejon street before work started on the building. The subject has worried me for some time, and I wish we could close up some of the places, for I think they are fire traps." City Attorney McKesson will look into the city ordinances and report his findings to the city council.

The mayor also intimated that he wants reports on several matters that have been under consideration for some time. He asked Commissioner Lawton for a report on the matter of bids for sidewalks in the paving district, as well as for iron poles for ornamental street lighting. The mayor also favored Commissioner Frost that certain coal dealers are giving short weights. "I have seen 11 coal tickets," he said, "which showed shortages from 75 to 450 pounds."

TAKEN UNDER ADVISEMENT

A motion for a new trial in the suit of W. J. Lombard against the estate of Otto Rehninger for $12,500, argued in division No. 1 of the district court, yesterday, before Judge Gregory Whitford of Denver, sitting for Judge Sheafor, was taken under advisement.

Some time ago the suit was dismissed on the ground that plaintiff's failure to file a motion for a new hearing in the county court, when his claim was dismissed, constituted a bar to an appeal to the district court. Attorneys for the plaintiff, yesterday, cited an opinion of the recently created court of appeal, involving it is said, practically the same technicalities as those entailed in the Lombard-Rehninger suit.

COUNCIL APPROVES PLANS ENGINEER; PROTESTS FEB. 2

February 2 has been set as the date when the city council will hear protests against paying and parking in the business section, known officially as the public improvement ordinance as district No. 1. Council yesterday approved the city engineer's plans for the work, which is estimated will cost $43,118. The plans provide for middle parking on Cascade, side parking on Platte and middle parking on Nevada, except between Klowa and Huerta streets.

An amendment to the gasoline ordinance, passed yesterday as an emergency measure, authorizes the council to issue permits to establishments using gasoline which are unable to comply with the new ordinance. These permits, it is said, will be issued if the fire risk is satisfactory. It was pointed out that many taverns and other shops would be forced out of business if compelled to operate strictly according to the ordinance.

Taylor L. Downer protested against a newsstand conducted by a cripple in front of the Postal Telegraph office. The matter was referred to Commissioner Hunsbuck.

A list giving free water to churches, hospitals and similar institutions, or making a low rate, was passed by the council. The list represents about $5,500 at the regular rate.

DR. GRENELL TO TALK HERE TUESDAY EVENING

Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell, the famous missionary physician of Labrador, and well known for his books on the life in that northern part of the world, will be in Colorado Springs Tuesday night, January 23, and will deliver a lecture in Perkins hall. The lecture is open to the public without admission.

LACK OF FUNDS MAY LOSE STATE A SCHOOL PROPERTY

GRAND JUNCTION, Jan. 17.—Failure to secure the appropriation made by the last legislature to provide a horticultural and forest school on the Teller Indian school property may yet lose Colorado the buildings and grounds, valued at $450,000.

President C. A. Lory of the state agricultural board has written to the local board in charge of the property advising that the alleged seriousness of the condition.

The Teller property, along with the Durango property, was granted to Colorado by congress on condition that it be converted into an educational institution to which Indians were to be admitted on equal terms with whites.

So far the state through the lack of funds has been unable to keep the conditions imposed by the act of congress, but President Lory believes that if the extension work can be carried out as planned with the $5,000 promised by the state auditor, the state can possession of the property.

REPUTED KING OF BLACKHAND SOCIETY IN PUEBLO SLAIN

PUEBLO, Colo., Jan. 17.—Sam Bagano, aged 33, reputed king of the local Blackhand society, is dead. His body was found with a bullet hole in his head in the rear of the open beach department of the steel works at daylight this morning. He had been shot to death during the night. The opinion of the officers investigating the killing is that he met his death while engaged in a blackmailing scheme.

Instead of the usual neat attire in which he had appeared on the streets of Pueblo for years, Bagano was dressed in the garb of a laborer and as such is believed to have slipped past the officers at the steel works gate at the regular shift last night.

WOMAN SICK TWELVE YEARS

Wants Other Women to Know How She Was Finally Restored to Health.

Louisiana, Mo.:—"I think a woman naturally dislikes to make her troubles known to the public, but complete restoration to health means so much to me that I cannot keep from telling mine for the sake of other suffering women."

"I had been sick about twelve years, and had eleven doctors. I had dragging down pains, pains at monthly periods, bilious spells, and was getting worse all the time. I would hardly get over one spell when I would be sick again. No tongue can tell what I suffered from cramps, and at times I could hardly walk. The doctors said I might die at one of those times, but I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got better right away. Your valuable medicine is worth more than mountains of gold to suffering women."

—Mrs. BERTHA MUFF, 503 N. 4th Street, Louisiana, Mo.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

LOTS OF SOFT, FLUFFY, LUSTROUS HAIR AND NEVER ANY DANDRUFF

You Can Double the Beauty of Your Hair in Ten Minutes With a Little Danderine

When you see a head of heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, you can at once conclude that this man or woman is using Danderine, because nothing else accomplishes so much for the hair.

Just one application of Knowlton's Danderine will double the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately destroys and dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, don't hesitate but get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp, and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now? A 25-cent bottle will truly amaze you.

"If you had seen me before I began to take Cardui, you would not think I was the same person. Six doctors failed to do me good, and my friends thought I would die. LULU GLAZER DIVORCED

For The Nervous Woman,

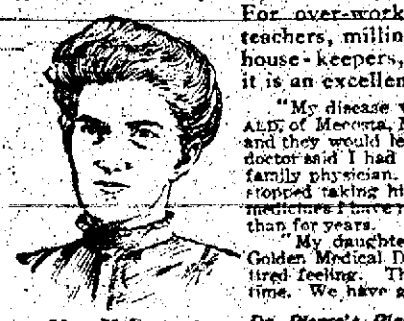

Or the woman who experiences hot flashes nothing is so good to soothe, quiet and calm the nervous system as a pure glyceric extract of native medicinal plants, and made without alcohol, which has been sold by druggists for the past forty years, and most favorably known as Doan's or Pierce's Favorite Prescription. In younger years some women suffer from dizziness, or fainting spells, or headache, bearing down feelings and pain. All these symptoms of irregularity and female disturbance are relieved by the use of this famous "Prescription" of Doctor Pierce.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system, and in particular to the organs distinctly feminine. For over-worked "worn-out" "run-down" debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, it is an excellent appetizing, cordial and restorative tonic.

"My disease was called retroversion," writes Mrs. Lydia McDonald, of Nevada, Mich., Route 1. "I had nervous chills and numb spells, and they would leave me very weak. Then I had inflammation and the doctor said I had a floating kidney. I doctored seven months with our family physician. He said I would have to have an operation. Then I stopped taking his medicine. After taking three bottles of Dr. Pierce's medicine I have not had any nervous chills or weak spells. I am better than for years."

My daughter is now taking the "Prescription" and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and the "Pellets" for nervousness and weak tired feelings. These remedies have helped her ever so much in a short time. We have great faith in your medicines for female troubles.

Mrs. McDonald. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets induce mild natural bowel movement.

FLYNN WINS BY K. O.
FROM FOURTH RATER

TORONTO, Jan. 17.—Jim Flynn, the fight fireman, who is matched to punch Jack Johnson for the world's heavy weight championship, knocked out Al Williams of Cleveland, in the second round, of a bout scheduled to go 10 rounds, before the National Sporting association of this city, tonight.

Flynn forced the fighting from the start. In the first two minutes of the mixup, Williams showed up advantage. Flynn's superlative hitting soon made it self apparent, however, and the last minute of the round he landed a heavy short-arm hook to the face, sending the Clevelander to the floor for a count of six the bell saving him.

Williams came up fresh for the second round, but Flynn was faster than him from the start. The end came quickly. Flynn landed a tremendous right swing for Williams' jaw. The blow landed fairly and the Cleveland man went down and out.

Flynn who weighed in at 185 pounds, was 15 pounds lighter than his opponent, Jack Johnson, who was expected to be at the ringside, was unable to be present because of a death in the family. According to Jack Curren, Flynn's manager, tonight's bout marked the last public appearance of the Pueblo man before his meeting with Johnson's next July.

CANDLE AND MALONE IN SLOW BOUT IN DENVER

NEWYORK Jan. 17.—Mike Malone of Denver and Willie "Candle" of San Francisco who recently fought a 10-round draw here, repeated their exhibition tonight before the Denver A. C. Whereas the former fight was a slugging affair tonight's bout was tame and featureless and the draw well earned.

The preliminary, a 10-round contest between Charles Pierson of New York and William Thompson of Chicago, was a serviceable, practical times before the big crowd to its feet. Pierson was given the decision.

CALLAHAN WOULD AID
RETIRED BALL PLAYERS

CHICAGO Jan. 17.—Jimmy Callahan, manager of the Chicago American club, is of the opinion that organized baseball should lend a helping hand to the stars of bygone days.

"The major leagues," he said last night, "should set aside one day each summer for a championship game and apply the receipts toward maintaining a pension fund. This money could be used for providing comforts for worthy players of the past, which they otherwise could not enjoy. "Better still if the owners would create jobs good during the playing season. The wages these veterans would earn would help them wonderfully for a time."

In a letter to stockholders of the El

"In many corporations there are many mere figureheads and too many who are not content by being directors, thus neglecting their interests, but we must have a compensation besides influencing cash flow of their companies to satisfy personal gains. Where this condition flagrantly exists it should be stopped, and stockholders are one to see to it is discontinued. Directors get together and say, 'If you will vote a salary I will vote one for you.' Does not that remind you of 'Give on the street when they say, 'Give a bite of your candy and I will give you a bite of mine.' It is childish, nevertheless only too true. Pay officers of your company who do you work and pay them commensurately. Do not tolerate others.

The operation of your mine is personally conducted by Superintendent Nichols, a man whose integrity and ability stand unquestioned and whose strong and forceful character prevents him from wavering in his judgment and duty. In all his problems he has an unqualified cooperation and support of President Burris.

"During the past year President Burris succeeded in interesting the well-known and much respected New York banking firm of Messrs. Joseph Walker & Sons in your company. As a result, they were appointed fiscal agents by your board of directors, and since then they have been listed on the New York Curb and your New York fiscal agents have begun to interest their clientele in El Paso stock. In a little while El Paso stock will, through their representations and otherwise, come to international repute. Do you fully realize what the broadening of such a market for El Paso shares means? The stocks of this stock will go into the hands of foreign investors to be buried beyond the influence of market changes. Do you realize what that banking association means to the El Paso company in particular, and to Cripple Creek in general? It is easy to tell the story in a few minutes, but try for yourself to interest a banking firm of their standing in a mining enterprise and you may find years of work before you have accomplished it.

Praises Burris.

"President Burris spends more time in the mine and underground in its workings than any other president here at any large mining mine. He watches every development and he does not speculate in the stock. He is trying to make the mine a big enough source to make his profits out of dividends and it is properly earned dividends that you, stockholders, are interested in."

"Not many months ago I attended the only meeting of the Roosevelt Deep Drainage Tunnel company which I had been asked. Many of the large mining operators were present and was also President Burris and Nichols. The general talk was so much discouraging, for the tunnel company was out of funds. Most of these present were perfectly willing to let the El Paso company do all further exploring in the Fuller creek but that it wanted to do. I met Messrs. Burris and Nichols engaged in a short, private conversation, and a few minutes Mr. Burris stated that the El Paso company would expect an additional water flow, if the tunnel company agreed to compensate on a sliding scale according to additional quantity of water encountered and I could observe that as present believed they had entered a pretty sharp deal with the El Paso representatives, but the El Paso re actually angriously identified with the El Paso mine. I consider this accomplishment by President Burris a master-stroke for you and the mine, and their official connection with your company is one of the greatest endorsements of its likely great future. Do you want to drive this great banking house away? Do you want to spoil all that President Burris accomplished for you? Consult your own interests and in doing so you will discountage this needless and unwarranted contest for control, by sending your proxy either to Messrs. Joseph Walker & Sons, or to Mr. Allen L.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Although there was a decided disturbance in the level of prices, the stock market today was appreciably weaker. Stocks were under moderate pressure most of the day, but losses were small, and Union Pacific and Canadian Pacific were the only prominent issues which ended as much as a point. The movement was listless without aggressive features.

live action on either side. Toward the close the demand improved, and the price of the bonds advanced. The increased demand for investment issues was perhaps the most significant feature of the day. A good inquiry for the new Rock Island bonds, which were sold at 100, was reported. The reception of this issue, the first actual marketing of bonds in a large scale of the year, was welcomed with keen interest as a test of the market for the high interest rate issues that it is regarded as probable that railroad issues will be announced soon.

The coal stocks and bonds and the coalers were again the strongest. The American Tobacco, preferred, old and new stocks, the Liggett & Meyers issues, Lorillard, preferred, an American Snuff, preferred, and a 2 cent issue, all among the coalers. Central Railroad of New Jersey was marked up 4 points, to 337, on account of high record price. National Coal, a 2 cent issue, pointed up 1 point, to 104, on account of high record, and several others of the specialties gained lesser amounts. American Maltine, preferred made a Transatlantic countries gave plenty evidence of beginning to feel the effects of the delay in the importation of wheat. At London, among the first results were higher bids for round lots from Australia and from the Pacific ports of the United States. One of the contributing causes was a rise in the price of Danube navigation, which was expected to lessen forwardings during a long period from southern Europe. The trade noted with interest that Baltimore was making shipments of wheat to the West, and that the ocean freight room appeared to be available. Northwest receipts were smaller than had been looked for in view of the advent of mild weather. The market was again a little over-ripe. Back of all the other reasons, however, was the Argentine news—rain retarding the late harvest—reducing estimates on the exportable surplus of wheat to 1,000,000 bushels. May ranged from 99½@99½¢ to 1.00½¢, and in the end, was 1.00½@1.00½¢, a rise of ½¢, compared with yesterday.

May ranged from 50c to 49½c and closed ½c up at 49½c. The prevailing market after being largely flat ultimately the effect of the early fall in grain. TWO SERIOUS FIRES DO MUCH DAMAGE IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The seven-story warehouse of the Terminal Storage company, occupying a full city block near the North river water front between Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth streets and containing merchandise valued at more than $10,000, was swept by fire early today. The fire was discovered at a few minutes after midnight. It was not under control until 6:45 o'clock when the loss was estimated at $1,250,000. Fire alarms, sounded in quick succession, summoned to the scene practically every available piece of fire fighting apparatus from all Manhattan, and this was reinforced by fire fire boats.

The terminal storage company's warehouse was of brick and concrete and was regarded as one of the most modern buildings in that part of the city. It was the largest structure of its kind in New York.

While the building itself was fireproof and protected by fire walls, sprinklers and all the modern fire prevention and fire fighting apparatus, its contents, consisting mostly of goods awaiting delivery to the big New York department stores, were naturally of the most inflammable nature.

The building was divided into four sections by fire walls two feet thick. One of the sections was controlled by John Wapman, and contained merchandise consigned to him. Another section was rented by Gimbel brothers, while the two remaining sections had as tenants nearly fifty smaller firms.

The fire started in the Wapman compartment and worked its way through the fire wall to the Gimbel section. Both these sections were destroyed, but the fire walls between them and the other compartments held firm and the loss is therefore confined to the two firms named.

There was no loss of life but two firemen were seriously injured.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—A stubborn fire on the ground floor of the 22-story office building owned by the Knickerbocker Trust company at the corner of Broadway and Exchange place, gave the financial district some moments of trepidation early today.

The blaze was within a few hundred feet of the stock exchange but was got under control before it could spread beyond the building where it started. The loss will not exceed $100,000.

TOWBOAT GOES TO BOTTOM
PADUCAH, Ky., Jan. 17.—The towboat Reaner, tonnage 35, sank in 20 feet of water off Owens Island near here at 4 o'clock this afternoon. A frozen inlet pipe broke, sending the boat to the bottom. No one was on board.

How Wrinkles Are Caused—and Removed (From American Home)

"Why did no one think of this before?" writes a clear-thinking reader. "Wrinkles are caused by the skin becoming loose. Obviously the remedy is to tighten the skin. Equally it is obvious that the only thing which will tighten the skin is a powerful astringent."

"Now, it is well known that the only powerful astringent which is absolutely harmless and beneficial as well as pure powdered sassafras, obtainable from any druggist. Dissolve one ounce in a half pint of witch hazel. Rub the face in it daily and behold! The result is almost magical. The skin becomes firm and smooth, the face feels snug, comfortable and solid, instead of loose and flabby. Simple, isn't it? As I asked—why did no one think of it before?"

"One should be careful, however, to use no other astringents than pure sassafras, as the former do no good and are really injurious more often than not."
